Fleet upgrade: Deal for 97 Tejas Mk1A firmed up with HAL

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN the face of fast depleting combat squadrons of the Indian Air Force, the Ministry of Defence (MoD) has inked a deal with Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) for 97 LCA Mk1A aircraft (68 fighters & 29 Twin Seaters) with associated equipment for the Air Force (IAF) at ₹62,370 crore.

It was only last month that the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) gave its nod for the production of Tejas Mk1A, the newer and improved version of India's single-engine, 4.5 generation delta wing multirole combat aircraft designed by the Aeronautical Development Agency.

Tejas Mk1A will play an important role in mitigating the decrease in the quantity of combat jets and the overall dip in the number of combat squadrons. The Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) had given its approval in November 2023.

Tejas is a multirole platform designed to undertake air defence, maritime reconnaissance and strike roles. The LCA Mk-1A will have updated avionics, an updated electronic warfare suite and a beyond visual range missile capability. The new variant will be capable of firing a number of weapons from increased stand-off ranges.

The MoD informed, "The advanced LCA (Light Combat Aircraft) Mk1A integrates Uttam active electronically steered radar (AESA) Radar, Swayam Raksha Kavach and control actuators, with 64%+ indigenous content and 67 new indigenous items."

"Supported by 105 suppliers, the project will generate 11,750 jobs/ year over six years. Deliveries will start in 2027-28, boosting IAF capability, Atmanirbhar Bharat (self reliance) and India's defence preparedness," MoD added.

MHA cites financial irregularities and violation of norms by SECMOL

A day after violent protests in Ladakh killed four persons and injured many, the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) on Thursday cancelled the FCRA licence of Students' Educational and Cultural Movement of Ladakh (SECMOL), founded by activist Sonam Wangchuk who was on hunger strike seeking special rights and statehood for the Union Territory.

While cancelling the licence, the MHA cited several alleged discrepancies in the accounts of SECMOL, including a fund transfer from Sweden that was "against national interest".

Meanwhile, the CBI has launched a probe into the alleged violations of the Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, or FCRA, norms, by SECMOL and the Himalayan Institute of Alternatives Ladakh (HIAL), also linked to Wangchuk.

While no FIR has been registered, sources said CBI officials have been camping in Ladakh for the past week, scrutinising financial records of SECMOL and HIAL. Sources added that the probe was initiated after the agency received a complaint from MHA about alleged receipt of foreign funds in violation of rules.

Curfew remained in force on Thursday in the violence hit-Leh district of Ladakh while a complete shutdown was observed in the neighbouring Kargil district demanding statehood and special rights. Almost all shops, business establishments, and government offices remained shut while traffic was off roads.

Police detained around 40 persons in connection with Wednesday's violence. Leh Apex Body (LAB) co-chairman Chering Dorjey said some LAB members may also have been detained.

The MHA has blamed Wangchuk for inciting violence, while the latter termed the government action a witch-hunt against him. "I don't fear detention and police can come anytime to arrest me," said the influential activist.

There are speculations that Wangchuk, recipient of the prestigious Ramon Magsaysay Award, may be booked under Public Safety Act and detained.

HC nod for socio-economic survey, bar on disclosing data

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday declined to stay the Socio-Economic and Educational Survey-2025 being conducted by the Karnataka State Commission for Backward Classes. The court has, however, imposed certain conditions, taking into consideration the apprehension expressed by the petitioners that the collection of personal information is an intrusion into the right to privacy, and there is no safeguard for the data.

"We do not consider apposite to interdict the survey," said a division bench of Chief Justice Vibhu Bakhru and Justice CM Joshi in the order passed after concluding the hearing on a batch of petitions filed by Rajya Vokkaligara Sangha, Akhila Karnataka Brahmana Mahasabha, advocate KN Subbareddy, and others questioning the legality of the survey, which was launched on September 22. P4

Bhyrappa's will on last rites creates flutter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

DRAMA unfolded during the public viewing of the mortal remains of celebrated writer and novelist SL Bhyrappa at the Kalamandir premises in Mysuru on Thursday. The body, which was brought from Bengaluru earlier in the day, was kept for the public to pay homage. However, the solemn atmosphere turned tense following claims about a will the writer had reportedly executed regarding his final rites.

The public viewing and final farewell to the 'Saraswathi Samman' was going on in a routine manner till 5.30pm, when it was marred by confusion after a copy of his will surfaced, detailing his wishes regarding his last rites.

The will went viral on social media and was circulated among his readers and fans. Bhyrappa had allegedly executed the will in July 2025, at the office of the Additional Sub-Registrar, Rajarajeshwari Nagar, Bengaluru, stating that his two sons, Uday Shankar and Ravi Shankar, should not perform his last rites.

Not interested in asserting ourselves on Kashmir: US

PTI @ New York

KASHMIR is a "direct issue" between India and Pakistan and the US has no interest in "asserting" itself between the South Asian neighbours on the matter, a senior State Department official said here on Wednesday. The official said it is a longstanding policy of the US that Kashmir is a direct issue between India and Pakistan, adding if the US is asked to offer its good offices on any issue, it would be ready to help.

US President Donald Trump has "enough crises" on his hands and "we leave that (issue of Kashmir) up to India and Pakistan to solve," the official said. "We have no interest in asserting ourselves between India and Pakistan," echoing New Delhi's position against third-party mediation on Kashmir.

As for Operation Sindoor, the official said, "it is a fact that the US was involved in that crisis and absolutely helped broker that ceasefire."

The official also said President Trump and Prime Minister Narendra Modi share a "very, very positive" relationship and will meet, adding plans were underway for the next Quad Summit, expected either later this year or in early 2026. India will host leaders from the US, Australia, and Japan for the Quad summit. The 2024 edition of the summit was held in the US at Wilmington, Delaware.

"In terms of meetings coming soon, I certainly don't want to get ahead of announcing anything for the President, but I'm sure you'll see the two meet," the official said.

Siddu proposes, Azim Premji disposes

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

WIPRO Founder Chairman Azim Premji turned down CM Siddaramaiah's request to permit public vehicles through its campus on Bengaluru's Outer Ring Road (ORR), to cut down traffic at Iblur Junction. Public vehicular movement through private property would not be "an effective, sustainable, long-term solution", Premji replied in a letter addressed to the CM, dated September 24.

The IT czar, in turn, batted for a comprehensive, scientific study led by an entity with world-class expertise in urban transport management to develop a holistic roadmap of effective solutions. He also said that Wipro will underwrite a significant portion of the cost for this expert study.

To curb the severe traffic congestion at Iblur Junction on the ORR, the CM had sought Wipro's permission to allow limited vehicular movement through its campus. In his letter addressed to Premji on September 19, the CM had said that preliminary assessments by traffic and urban mobility experts indicate that if Wipro opens its campus to vehicular movement, it could reduce traffic on its adjoining stretches by 30 per cent, particularly during peak office hours.

"As stated in your letter, urgent and effective measures are indeed required for the traffic situation, particularly along the Outer Ring Road, being an export-oriented economic hub," Premji said in the latter. P2

Wipro's contract rules rule

On declining the CM's request to open up the Wipro campus for traffic, Azim Premji said Wipro's contractual rules mandate non-negotiable access control norms for its clients.

Few streetlights turn roads into a nightmare ride

City in the dark, unlit roads make walking a terrifying prospect for women

ANUBHAB ROY @ Bengaluru

IF potholes were not enough of an inconvenience, lack of streetlights on major roads in Bengaluru adds to the public indignation. The poles stand without lights, making navigation after sunset on stretches of Intermediate Ring Road, Sarjapur-Marathahalli Road, Main Guard Cross Road and more, a nightmare, indeed.

Without streetlights, missing potholes becomes all too easy. The problem deepens in the case of older vehicles with limited power for their headlights. While the stretch of Intermediate Ring Road from Ejipura Signal to Maruthi Infotech Centre is relatively smooth, the steep turns are made sinister with only reflective roadsigns to guide vehicles.

The stretch of Sarjapur-Marathahalli Road that hugs the boundary of Agara Lake is undoubtedly worse. Deep craters inundate the stretch, and without streetlights for guidance, vehicles often fall prey to the innumerable gashes on the road.

Keeping aside a small stretch of Main Guard Cross Road – which lacks even lamp poles – the two aforementioned major roads do have light poles, and only a paltry number of them are in working order, especially towards the start and end points of the stretches. The majority of the stretches remain in dark.

While a Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) engineer incharge of Sarjapur-Marathahalli Road claimed that he would send technicians to address the issue, darkness remains.

Another GBA engineer, who oversees Intermediate Ring Road, alleged that light poles were removed due to a road-widening project, but the lampless light poles are there for you.

Vehicular traffic, of course, is not the only concern. Unlit roads make even pedestrian movement a hazard, especially for women. Sonia Singh, a local resident, says, "As a woman it is distressing to be using streets that run up to 2 km and not have any street lights across those lengths. Leisurely walks aside, I am forced to take those routes nonetheless because of work and errands."

An eerie spell engulfs the city after sunset, with fewer streetlights guiding the way for pedestrians and motorists

GBA CAN SEE ONLY POTHOLES FOR NOW; LASTING SOLUTIONS CAN WAIT

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

GREATER Bengaluru Authority's (GBA) zonal commissioners on Friday said that the civic body's immediate agenda is fixing potholes. They said that repairing or relaying of roads will be taken up only after November.

The zonal commissioners have signed Memorandums of Understanding (MoUs) with batch- mix plants worth Rs 5 crore to ensure continuous supply of bitumen to the zones. White topping tenders which were called earlier are also being utilised to fill potholes.

Pommala Sunil Kumar, commissioner, north zone, said he signed an MoU of Rs 2.5 crore with a batch-mix plant contractor in north Bengaluru. He said: "I have also entered into an MoU on behalf of other commissioners for an additional Rs 2.5 crore for the same. As and when the money is exhausted more will be added. Contractors under defect liability period have also been told to fix potholes. Other government departments have been told to repair the roads."

Rajendra Cholan, central zone, commissioner, said the agencies that are maintaining the white topped roads have been told to address the roads. Also the Rs 685 crore that was allocated to GBA for black topped roads has been divided among the five corporations.

"We have entered into agreements with batch mix plants for filling potholes. Contractors have been told that if the potholes are not filled, then money will be deducted when payments are being cleared. In addition, Rs 25 crore has been allocated to each corporation," he added.

Rajendra KV, commissioner, West Zone, said the Rs 25 lakh awarded to each ward is being utilised to fill potholes. "We have hired another agency to fill potholes, supply materials and labour. Short term tenders have also been called to fill potholes. Road repair works will be taken up later," he said.

Lokhandre Snehal Sudhakar, Additional Commissioner, Development, East City Corporation, said they have adopted a different method. The contractors have been told that payments will be made only after potholes are filled and so the focus is quality execution of work within the stipulated deadline.

A senior GBA official said: "Repairing roads is not priority. Patch work and pothole filling is. The exercise of repairing or relaying will be done after November, when rains subside. The government presently wants a quick-fix solution. Relaying roads is a long-term exercise and with roads being moist and heavy traffic movement it cannot be done immediately."

Siddu, DKS blame BJP govt for potholes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CM Siddaramaiah and DCM DK Shivakumar on Thursday alleged that the city is now facing the problem of potholes because of the previous BJP government's mismanagement.

Siddaramaiah told reporters that the BJP government did nothing to fill the potholes. Shivakumar told reporters at Vidhana Soudha that the CM has provided Rs 750 crore to fill potholes in the city.

On BJP's protest and Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka's remark that the state government can't fill potholes but wants to build a tunnel road, Shivakumar said, "The BJP government's misrule resulted in the poor condition of roads. We are now filling the potholes. The BJP leaders did not get a single rupee from the Union government for Bengaluru's development, despite the city's tax contribution."

Potholes cannot be filled in a hurry. The BJP MLAs and MPs from the city should monitor the pothole-filling work in their constituencies, Shivakumar said.

Stating that people have been asked to send details regarding potholes to the 'Raste Gundi Gamana' (Fix Pothole) app, he said, "Officials may ignore some potholes. But people should be vigilant and provide info on potholes they see. Thousands of people have sent details regarding potholes along with photos. I have even asked the city traffic police to provide a list of potholes." Shivakumar said the government is making sincere efforts to fill potholes and sought people's support.

'Wipro committed to partnering with state govt to fix city's infra woes'

THE problem's complexity, stemming from multiple factors, suggests that there is unlikely to be a single-point solution or a silver bullet to resolve it," Premji said in the letter, adding, "To this end, we believe the most effective path forward is to commission a comprehensive, scientific study led by an entity with world-class expertise in urban transport management. Such an exercise would allow us to develop a holistic roadmap of effective solutions that are implementable in the short, medium, and long term."

"To demonstrate our commitment to being a part of the solution, Wipro will be pleased to engage in this process and underwrite a significant portion of the cost for this expert study," he said.

Listing out reasons for declining the CM's request to open up the Wipro campus, Premji said, "With respect to the specific suggestion of allowing public vehicular movement through our Sarjapur campus, we apprehend significant legal, governance, and statutory challenges since it is an exclusive private property owned by a listed company, not intended for public thoroughfare. That apart, it will also be appreciated that our Sarjapur campus is a Special Economic Zone (SEZ) providing services to global customers, our contractual conditions mandate stringent, non-negotiable access control norms for governance and compliance."

He ended his letter mentioning that Wipro stands committed to partnering with the Karnataka government to find a lasting solution for Bengaluru's mobility challenges. "We believe a collaborative, data-driven approach will yield the most impactful results for our city," he said.

'Cease using 1894 Land Acquisition Act'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ASSN ASKS BDA

THE Peripheral Ring Road (PRR) Farmers' and Site Owners' Association has demanded that the BDA stop using the outdated 1894 Land Acquisition Act and immediately align its Act with the Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013 (LARR Act). They further argued that the project should be considered lapsed after two decades of inaction since its first notification.

The members of the association met BDA Chairman NA Haris and Commissioner P Manivannan on Thursday, seeking clarity on the project and having discussions over the same. Farmers said acquisition proceedings began in 2005-06, with final notifications issued from 2007, but no possession was taken, awards passed, or compensation paid, making the acquisition invalid.

During the meeting, which saw instances of heated exchanges, members highlighted their 20 years of suffering. Lands were "locked", preventing families from transferring ownership after their parents' deaths or developing the property. They accused BDA of freezing guidance values in PRR villages since 2016 to suppress compensation.

The association also opposed BDA's "consent award" meetings, calling them exploitative. They argued that with the newly created GBA, all acquisitions must follow the 2013 LARR Act.

In response, Haris said the design had been reworked to include 12-metre service roads on both sides and space for a future metro line. He added that regarding compensation, the proposal placed before the cabinet follows the 2013 Land Acquisition Act. It offers three times the guidance value in rural areas and twice the guidance value in urban areas, including within BBMP limits. This formula, already discussed with government banks, has been accepted by all stakeholders. He also added that other means of compensation are being considered such as Transfer of Development Rights, land for land, provided that the land owner agrees.

GST: Hoteliers won't cut food, room rates

BENGALURU: The Karnataka State Hoteliers' Association (KSHA) said it cannot reduce food and room tariffs despite the reduction of GST on several items, as the sector continues to bear high costs on essentials, such as cooking gas and rent. In a statement, KSHA president GK Shetty welcomed the Centre's move to cut GST rates on several items, calling it a benefit to the common public. However, he said, "People are asking us when hotel food and room tariffs would be reduced. But we, the hoteliers, are constrained to reduce the price at this juncture, unless we get some relief from the government."

26th September : The extravagant relationship between the Sun and excitable Uranus raises new hopes and fresh possibilities. In particular, many people will be in an idealistic mood - and prepared to fight for their beliefs. This can be a good thing, but only if we all respect each other's positions.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You have too many chores to be able to do everything. This may well be the perfect time to off-load certain responsibilities and allow others to decide how such matters should be handled. You may not be good at delegating essential jobs, but it's never too late to learn!

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The past few months have sometimes been mentally as well as physically exhausting. The Sun is now moving close enough to an intriguing relationship with Pluto to remind you that, in order to achieve your goals, you must spend as much time as you need on rest and recuperation.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
You really do seem to have the whip-hand, but I suspect that you are only now at the very beginning of a phase when you will discover your true strength. Do not throw your weight around prematurely. But, then, I am sure I don't have to remind you that subtlety is the best policy.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
There's still a very strong chance that something is going to happen to make you feel hurt or undermined. However, there is no reason why you should read anything which is unintended into chance remarks. If you're not sure what a partner means, then say so!

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
People who have let you down may not deserve good treatment, but neither should you rush to take revenge. After all, first you have to ascertain that their motives were bad. Otherwise you should just accept that mistakes were made. Do not allow financial considerations to sway your actions.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The planets will add a dash of emotion to your sign today, compelling you to face up to long-forgotten feelings. On a completely mundane level, you should exert your power at home and brook no opposition. But whether that strategy works or not will depend on your sense of timing.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Mars is now making its aggressive presence felt over a part of your chart concerned with ethics, morals and legal questions. You may therefore wish to make your views known over the coming week or so, but I'd advise you now not to bend the rules - at least, not too far.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You are having a reminder of what happened three months' ago and a taste of what is likely to take place in about three months' time. Don't fall into the trap of imagining that this is your last chance, regardless of whether your concern is private or professional.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The Moon's emotional passage through your solar chart can be confused, and your precise intentions are not always easy to pin down. You may be critical of low standards, which is fine, but also much too fussy, which is not. Be tolerant of other people's little foibles.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Before you explore new possibilities, do investigate the ethical alternatives. It might be that there's a better way to do things. Also, check up to see if an overseas contact or a foreign friend has something to offer. If it's advice you're after, women may be a better bet than men.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You appear to be more concerned about your short-term happiness than about others' feelings but, quite honestly, it is high time that certain people stopped relying on you. Get your priorities straight as soon as you can, and then at least partners will be able to decide whether to support you or not.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
New planetary alignments are bound to lead you along strange and exciting paths. You can afford to be optimistic socially, and organise whatever meetings will enable you to appreciate your friends to the full. Younger or more experienced friends might set the pace.

THE Office of the Protector of Emigrants (PoE), Bengaluru, which holds jurisdiction over Karnataka and Goa, in coordination with the Bengaluru City Police, conducted a joint enforcement operation against an unlicensed immigration consultancy operating from HSR Layout.

The raid targeted Morganvij Immigration Services Pvt Ltd, which was found to be engaged in illegal overseas recruitment activities in violation of the Emigration Act, 1983. During the raid, key documents, registers, and other material were seized. The HSR Layout police have registered under the Emigration Act of 1983.

"The PoE Office had received multiple complaints from individuals alleging that the agency had collected substantial sums amounting to several lakhs of rupees on the pretext of arranging overseas employment in countries in Europe, the Gulf, and New Zealand. Despite being served a notice on May 19, the agency is alleged to have continued its operations illegally after relocating its office. Past instances of fraud had already been reported by emigrants against the agency. Moreover, the firm had been actively promoting unlicensed recruitment services via social media platforms," read a press note from PoE.

"No arrests have been made. A notice has been served to the concerned. The raid was following a complaint from one of the victims. The complainant has claimed that he had paid Rs 4.11 lakh to the unlicensed immigration consultancy for a job in Germany," said the officer.

This is the second major enforcement action taken by PoE, Bengaluru, this month. On September 6, the PoE, in association with the city police, had carried out a raid on another unlicensed recruitment operator running from a residential premises. The agent was suspected to be involved in recruiting individuals for employment in the Golden Triangle region of Southeast Asia using social media platforms. A case was filed in the Thalagattapura police station under the Emigration Act, 1983.

Any such violation is a punishable offence under Sections 24 and 25 of the Act, which provides for imprisonment of up to two years and a fine of Rs 2,000. In the event of repeat offences, both penalties are doubled.

TENSION prevailed outside the Sandhya Theatre in Chikka Madiwala during the premiere of the Andhra Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Konidala Pawan Kalyan starrer 'They Call Him OG' on Wednesday night when several fans brandished machetes, knives and other weapons on the road. The Madiwala police took several of the youth into custody.

THE High Court of Karnataka on Thursday refused to quash the criminal proceedings against dismissed head constable Ningappa G, alias Ningappa Savant, who allegedly extorted crores of rupees from many government officials by leaking information on possible raids, which he had obtained from 'his sources' within the Lokayukta.

KRV activists raise slogans inside Taj West End on Race Course Road on Thursday | EXPRESS

TENSION prevailed at Taj West End on Race Course Road after Karnataka Rakshana Vedike (KRV) activists barged into the venue where a private Hindi programme was being held on Thursday afternoon. The event was being organised by the Mananiya Sansadiya Rajbhasha Samiti in which a few Members of Parliament from North India were in attendance.

The protestors alleged that the three-day event was aimed at promoting the imposition of Hindi under the guise of the Centre's language policy. They also tore the banners put up for the programme.

They alleged that the event is trying to impose Hindi in all Central government offices in Karnataka. The protestors sat at the venue and shouted anti-Hindi slogans. People who had come for the event moved out of the venue till the police came and brought the situation under control and took the protestors into custody.

"More than 40 KRV activists were arrested for opposing the event which was part of the Hindi Diwas program. Instead of respecting the sentiments of Kannadigas, false and baseless cases were being booked against the protestors," said KRV sources. The High Grounds police are investigating.

GANAPATHY SUICIDE CASE

Clean chit to minister KJ George

Despite commission's recommendation, Cabinet rules out dept enquiry against 2 IPS officers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Thursday accepted the Justice KN Keshava Narayana Inquiry Commission report stating that there was no evidence against Energy Minister KJ George in the suicide of DySP MK Ganapathy in a lodge in Madikeri in 2016.

The cabinet, however, rejected the commission's recommendation of departmental enquiry against the then IGP AM Prasad and senior IPS officer Pranav Mohanthy, who had handled the investigation into the suicide.

"The cabinet has decided to partially accept the commission's report and fully accept the former DGP MK Srivastav study report that there was no need to accept the former's recommendation for a departmental enquiry against the officers. The case is closed now. Both the commission and the study report have clarified that there was no evidence against George, then home minister, and the officers. The CBI had also given a clean chit to George," clarified Law Minister HK Patil.

On July 7, 2016, Ganapathy had committed suicide in a lodge room after giving an interview to a private TV channel accusing George and the two IPS officers of harassment. As the Madikeri Court ordered for registering an FIR against them, George resigned on July 18. The case was handed over to Crime Investigation Department (CID) which gave a clean chit to George on Sept.26, 2016, paving way for his return to the Siddaramaiah cabinet.

The government had, however, set up the Justice Keshava Narayana inquiry commission which gave its report on Feb.26, 2018. To study the eight volumes of the report, including the recommendations the government appointed MK Srivastav who gave his report on May 27, 2025.

Citing the High Court's acceptance of the CBI report giving clean chit to the accused and the Supreme Court's upholding of the CBI's closure of the case through a Special Leave Petition (SLP), Srivastava in his report clarified that there was no need for departmental enquiry against the two IPS officers, said Patil.

CM to discuss survey glitches with DCs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state government is keen to ensure that Socio Economic and Educational Survey gets completed by October 7. The survey, conducted by the Karnataka State Commission for Backward Classes, has been marred by glitches and inexperienced enumerators.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah will hold a video conference (VC) with deputy commissioners and CEOs of Zilla Panchayats on Friday at 11.30 am to expedite and streamline the survey.

After the cabinet meeting held on Thursday, Law Minister HK Patil said Chief Commissioner, Greater Bangalore Authority (GBA), has been empowered to take disciplinary action against those officers/employees assigned to the survey work if they do not attend to it which amounts to dereliction of their duties.

In a significant step, the cabinet has approved exemption from obtaining possession certificate for residential buildings with an area of more than 1200 sq. ft. under the Greater Bangalore Administration Act, 2024 under the jurisdiction of Greater Bangalore Authority under section 241(7).

Do not disclose census data: HC to commission

THE court imposed the conditions that the commission should not disclose the data being collected to any person, including the state, and should ensure that the data is fully protected and kept confidential. The commission should inform or communicate to the public that participation in the survey is voluntary and no person is obligated to disclose any of the information, the court ordered.

"Any information disclosed is purely voluntary. This information would necessarily have to be communicated to all participants at the threshold stage by the enumerators before calling upon them to answer any queries or participate in the survey. Further, if a participant declines to participate in the survey, the enumerators will take no further steps to persuade or cajole the participant or the person to divulge any explanations," the court said.

The commission should file the affidavit within a working day, clearly disclosing the steps taken for ensuring that the data collected is kept confidential and not accessible to any person other than the commission, the court ordered.

At the same time, the court granted liberty to both parties — petitioners and respondents, such as the commission, the state and the Centre — to file a comprehensive set of submissions along with authorities within four weeks in support of their contentions.

The petitioners have challenged the survey on the grounds that the state has no legislative competence to conduct a survey since it is in the domain of the Centre.

The state government contended that the whole object of the survey is to update the data of the survey completed in 2015 by the commission. However, the survey has been mischaracterised as the caste census, but it is a social-educational survey to identify backward classes socially and educationally, the state claimed.

The Centre contended that the collection of data is a census, which can be done by the Union Government, and hence, the state cannot do it. The survey undertaken by the state government was a census cloaked as a survey, it alleged.

Farmers told to lease land for solar project

ENS @ Bengaluru

BANGALORE Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (BESCOM) Managing Director N Shivakumar on Thursday said that farmers should support the Kusum-C scheme, by leasing their land for the project, from which they can also earn a steady annual income.

He said the scheme aims to ensure adequate daytime power supply for agricultural pump-sets. Speaking at the Seva Parva celebrations in Tumakuru, as part of the national initiative, Shivakumar said: "PM Kusum-C scheme is a boon for farmers, especially those in the plains or dry regions. The government is providing adequate support for implementing the scheme. However, there is a shortage of land. In places where government land is unavailable, farmers should give land leases themselves."

He said there is a high demand for electricity for agricultural activities and pump-sets in Tumakuru, Davanagere and Chitradurga districts. The government is focusing on these areas to ensure reliable, daytime electricity for farmers directly from solar-powered substations.

CM ANNOUNCES MEMORIAL FOR BHYRAPPA IN MYSURU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE demise of Padma Bhushan awardee S L Bhyrappa is a profound loss for the literary world, said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, while announcing that the state government will take steps to establish a memorial in his honour in Mysuru.

Speaking to the media after paying his last respects to Bhyrappa's mortal remains kept for public viewing at Ravindra Kalakshetra on Thursday, Siddaramaiah said the memorial will honour the author's legacy and reflect his lasting impact on Karnataka's literary landscape. Calling Bhyrappa one of the greatest writers the state has produced, the CM said, "He never craved for awards, but considering his literary contributions, he truly deserved the Jnanpith."

"Bhyrappa authored nearly 25 novels, many of which were translated into 40 languages, which is a rare feat. Though born in a small village and trained in philosophy, he developed a deep interest in literature, earning a worldwide readership," Siddaramaiah added.

Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar recalled his first meeting with Bhyrappa at the Kannada Sahitya Sammelana in Kanakapura in 1994, where the writer presided. "His style of writing is direct and outspoken. His philosophy serves as a guide to society, not just the literary world. He stepped into literature at a young age," he said.

BJP state president BY Vijayendra described Bhyrappa as a writer who brought global recognition to Kannada literature. "His thoughts reflected patriotism and his novels were full of the quest for truth. After I became BJP President, I visited his residence in Mysuru to seek his blessings. His passing is an irreparable loss to his family, crores of Kannada literary fans and the country," he said.

Noted film director T S Nagabharana also paid his respects, calling Bhyrappa a multifaceted personality. "Though he has departed physically, he will continue to live through his works. Kannadigas will always remember him," he said.

Jnanpith awardee Chandrashekhara Kambara, actress and MLC Umashree, actress Tara Anuradha and several other figures from the world of Kannada literature, cinema and politics joined fans and admirers to bid farewell to the writer.

Bhyrappa's mortal remains were later taken to Mysuru.

Uncertainty prevails over cremation

INSTEAD, Bhyrappa had clearly instructed that his cremation should take place in Santeshiwara village of Channapatna taluk in Hassan district, and his final rites must be performed by Sahana Vijayakumar, a resident of Mylasandra.

The controversy deepened when Phaneesh, a resident of Ramakrishnanagar who identified himself as a long-time admirer of the novelist, spoke up before the media. Phaneesh claimed that Bhyrappa had clearly mentioned in his will that his sons should not be allowed to conduct the funeral. Instead, the rites must be performed by Sahana Vijayakumar, whom he considered his daughter and who had taken care of him in his last days.

Quoting the will, Phaneesh insisted that these instructions be respected, leading to dramatic scenes at the venue. There was a commotion, with police swiftly moving Phaneesh away from the spot to defuse the situation. The unexpected development created confusion and discomfort among the family, fans and politicians present at the venue.

Following the dramatic turn of events, Bhyrappa's mortal remains were shifted from Kalamandir to a private hospital on MG Road by 6pm. Uncertainty now prevails over whether the cremation will be held in Mysuru, as originally planned, or in Hassan as per the purported will. A final decision is expected soon, even as admirers and the literary fraternity await clarity.

Meanwhile, during the public viewing, noted writers, litterateurs, theatre personalities of Mysuru, politicians including district in-charge minister Dr HC Mahadevappa, former chief minister Basavaraj Bommai, MLA Srivatsa, BJP leader and former MP Pratap Simha and others visited Kalamandir to pay their last respects.

Banu recalls Bhyrappa's stay at her Hassan home for 'Avarana' research

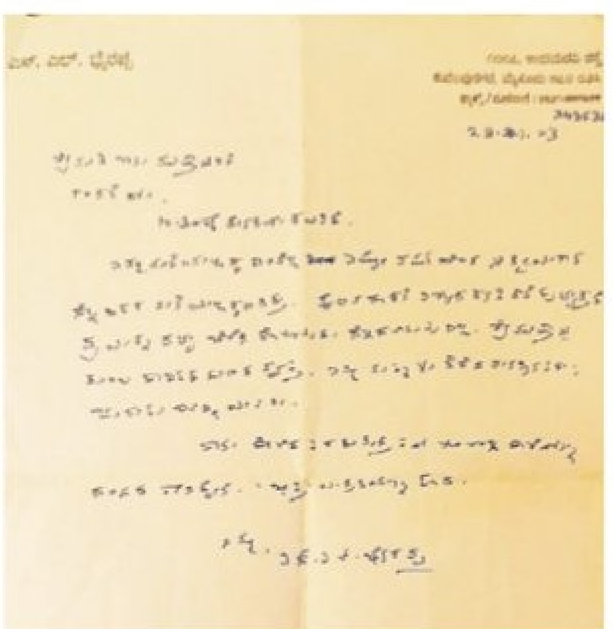
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

EVEN as the country mourns the passing of novelist SL Bhyrappa, a little-known anecdote about his writing journey has now come to light.

After more than two decades, it has come to the light now that Bhyrappa had stayed for a considerable period at the residence of International Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq in Hassan, immersing himself in the customs and lifestyle of a Muslim household, as part of his research for his novel Avarana.

Revealing this on a social media post, Banu also shared a photograph of a letter penned by Bhyrappa addressing her after his stay at her residence.

The revelation has gained particular resonance this week, as Banu inaugurated the Mysuru Dasara this year, while Bhyrappa's death cast a pall of grief over the city he made home for decades.



The letter sent by SL Bhyrappa to Booker winner Banu Mushtaq after staying at her house in Hassan | EXPRESS

The coincidence of these two events has prompted discussions in literary and cultural circles about the complex intersections of admiration, disagreement, and personal connection between two towering personalities of Kannada literature.

"In my younger days, I was a loyal reader of his works. But after he started writing his prejudices in his fiction, I stopped being as loyal as I used to be. I felt his writings were like a trained lawyer making a good argument of his case, using research to buttress his claims. I often asked myself as to who stole his creativity," Banu wrote on her post.

While acknowledging her ideological differences with the novelist, Banu said that her memories of hosting him and engaging in long discussions remained warm and affectionate. "In his death, I feel that I have lost an emotional connection," Banu added.

TG to take over Hyd Metro Ph-1, will pay ₹2Kcr to L&T

Firm rejects offer to be equity partner; terms of takeover to be finalised

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

WITH the objective of expediting Union government approval for Hyderabad Metro Rail Phase-2, the state government has in principle agreed to take over the Phase-1 project by assuming its outstanding debt of about Rs 13,000 crore. In addition, the government will pay around Rs 2,000 crore to L&T towards its equity investment in L&T Metro Rail (Hyderabad) Limited (LTMRHL) as a one-time settlement. The terms of the takeover will be finalised through mutual discussions, ensuring compliance with all legal and statutory requirements.

On Monday, TNIE reported that the State Government had offered two options to L&T: either put its stake for sale in the open market, with the government ready to match the highest private bid, or transfer the Rs 13,000 crore loan to the government, which would then pay the remaining Rs 2,000 crore.

On Thursday, Telangana CM A Revanth Reddy, along with senior government officials, held a meeting with L&T Group Chairman and Managing Director SN Subrahmanyan and senior executives of the company to discuss the way forward.

Hyderabad, which ranked second in the country in terms of Metro network in 2014, has now slipped to ninth place. To meet the growing demand for public transport in Hyderabad, the State Government has submitted proposals for eight new lines under Phase 2A and 2B, totalling about 163 km. The Centre has conducted several reviews of the proposals, but raised concerns since Phase-1 is operated by a private entity while Phase-2 is proposed to be executed by a government agency. It has insisted on a definitive agreement with L&T for operational integration of the two phases before processing the proposal further.

The Centre requested L&T to participate in Phase-2 as an equity partner alongside the Union and state governments. L&T expressed regret that it would neither participate in Phase-2 nor sign a definitive agreement. Instead, the company conveyed its willingness to divest its equity stake in LTMRHL to either the state or Centre.

The CM urged L&T to reconsider and participate in Phase-2 as an equity partner. CMD Subrahmanyan reiterated that L&T had exited the ownership and operation of transportation concession assets and could not participate. He also cited concerns over seamless operations, as well as revenue and cost-sharing mechanisms, as reasons for not signing the definitive agreement.

Subrahmanyan suggested that the government take over the complete debt of LTMRHL and pay Rs 5,900 crore towards the company's equity value. He said under the supplementary Concession Agreement signed in 2022, the government still owed Rs 2,100 crore out of the agreed ₹3,000 crore as an interest-free loan. It was agreed in principle that to expedite Phase-2 approval, the government would assume the Rs 13,000 crore debt of Phase-1 and pay Rs 2,000 crore to L&T towards its equity in LTMRHL as a one-time settlement.

ISRO OPENS ARCHIVAL DATA ON VENUS FOR SCIENTIFIC ANALYSIS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER throwing open its Chandrayaan-3 data for research and analysis, the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on Thursday announced the opportunity for researchers to utilise the archival data of Venus for scientific analysis.

The Venus Orbiter Mission (VOM) is scheduled for launch in March 2028. The objective of India's first Venus mission is to study the planet's surface and subsurface geology, analyse atmospheric processes and composition, investigate the ionosphere and its dynamics, examine the interaction of Venus with solar radiation, and understand the evolutionary differences between Earth and Venus.

ISRO is working on developing the spacecraft and payloads for orbiting Venus, considered Earth's sister planet, for the study. In order to promote, strengthen, and increase the scientific user community for VOM, ISRO has invited researchers for detailed analysis and promotion of it. The research proposals have been invited under five research areas of interest: Venusian morphology, topography and subsurface studies, geological mapping, mineralogy and surface composition of Venus, Venusian atmosphere structure, dynamics and composition, Venusian ionosphere and solar wind interaction, and modeling of Venusian atmospheres and ionospheres.

The spacecraft will include S-band synthetic aperture radar, Venus Advanced Radar for topside ionosphere and subsurface sounding, a thermal camera, a cloud monitoring camera, an atmospheric spectropolarimeter, solar occultation photometry for vertical profiling of aerosols and thin clouds in the Venusian atmosphere, and a retarding potential analyser.

People can submit their proposals to the office of the Director of Science Programme Office in Antariksh Bhavan, Bengaluru, or can send an email. The proposals will be reviewed and funded. The research is for a three-year duration.

Bharat Mata, Guru Puja cultural, not political concepts, says Kerala Guv

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kozhikode

KERALA Governor Rajendra Arlekar on Thursday said that those who once rejected Bharat Mata and Guru Puja are now pretending to be devotees of Lord Ayyappa at Sabarimala. "Bharat Mata and Guru Puja are not political concepts but deeply cultural ones. In culturally rich Kerala, it is unfortunate that some schools oppose Guru Puja," he said.

The governor was inaugurating the fourth-day Sarga Samvadam at the Navaratri Sargotsavam held at Kesari Bhavan in Kozhikode.

Criticising those opposing indigenous traditions, the governor said, "If such feelings truly exist in their hearts, why are they not ready to openly admit it before the people? Are they doing all this for political gain? The people are watching everything." He stressed that Bharat Mata and Guru Puja are part of a culture "deeply ingrained in our blood."

Highlighting his association with the RSS, the governor added: "I take pride in saying that I am part of the RSS and a swayamsevak (volunteer). But the Indian media had long maintained an untouchability towards the RSS. When Guruji Golwalkar visited Kozhikode, not a single line of his speech was reported by the local media."

NEW INITIATIVE

ICCC, PAC-5 inaugurated at Tirumala

ENS @Tirumala

THE Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) launched India's first AI-integrated Command and Control Centre (ICCC) at Vaikuntam Queue Complex, alongside a new Pilgrim Amenities Complex (PAC-5) Venkatadri Nilayam on Thursday. The inauguration by Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu, and Vice-President of India CP Radhakrishnan, marks a transformative step in enhancing crowd management, safety, and cyber resilience for pilgrims at Sri Venkateswara temple.

The ICCC, a pioneering initiative funded by NRI philanthropists in a pro bono public-private model, integrates cutting-edge technologies like Artificial Intelligence (AI), Machine Learning, and Digital Twin Map.

Inspired by IT Minister Nara Lokesh's Silicon Valley visit in October 2024, the ICCC leverages over 6,000 AI-powered cameras, processing 3,60,000 payloads per minute, 518 million events, and generating 2.5 billion real-time inferences daily. Powered by Kloudspot Inc and NVIDIA's high-performance computing, the ICCC offers real-time crowd prediction, 3D congestion visualisation, and cyber threat monitoring, setting a global benchmark for temple ecosystems. The Vice-President and the CM also inaugurated the AI-based modern equipment for preparing prasadam with the highest quality in Tirumala Potu.

E-auction of excise licences: Karnataka issues notification

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Government has issued a draft notification calling for objections within 10 days from the issuance of the notification, on the proposed amendment to the Karnataka Excise (General Conditions of Licences) Rules, 1967, Karnataka Excise (Lease of the Right of Retail Vend of Beer) Rules, 1976, and Karnataka Excise (Sale of Indian & Foreign Liquors) Rules 1968, for e-auctioning of defunct/unused licences "to aid in additional resource mobilisation (ARM) to the State", read the notification dated September 23.

The New Indian Express had run the news report on the proposed electronic auction of around 588 defunct Excise licences in Karnataka, in its August 14 edition. Out of around 588-odd licences that are likely to go under the hammer, 288 are said to be 11-C (government-owned Mysore Sales International Limited retail outlet) licences, followed by 204 CL-2 (retail liquor shops) and 96 CL-9 (bars & restaurants)," said sources on condition of anonymity.

"These licences have not been renewed for whatever reason, and have been lying defunct. The reason behind the auction is to bring them back into the market and generate an additional resource mobilisation of around Rs 600 crore for the government," added the sources.

For the purpose of e-auction, the govt has substituted the nomenclature of CL2 with CL2A and CL9 with CL9A. The proposed amendment is being made under Section 71 of the Karnataka Excise Act, 1965 (Karnataka Act 21 of 1966).

"The draft will be taken into consideration after the expiry of ten days from the date of its publication in the official Gazette. Any objection or suggestion which may be received by the State Government from any person in respect to the said draft before the expiry of period specified above will be considered by the State Government," read the notification.

"CL-2, CL-9, CL-11(C), CL-2A and CL-9A licences which are not renewed within a period of six months from the commencement of Excise year, or, within a period of six months from the date of death of the licensee, are considered as lapsed and forfeited. Such licences shall not be eligible for renewal, and no rights shall accrue to the licensee in respect thereof, such licences shall fall into the auction pool for auctioning," the draft notification stated.

Dharmasthala case: Kin of 'missing' man from Tumakuru meets SIT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mangaluru

THE Special Investigation Team (SIT) probing the alleged Dharmasthala case has obtained information regarding a 'missing' person from a family in Tumakuru district. This happened due to the discovery of a driving licence alongside human remains at Banglegudde during a site inspection.

The SIT recovered the driving licence of onw Adishesha Narayana, from Gubbi in Tumakuru district, who allegedly went missing in 2013. He was employed in a bar and was last seen on October 2, 2013. Speaking to reporters outside the SIT office in Belthangady, his family members recalled that he frequently departed without notifying anyone and would return after several days. "We did not file a missing person's report. The police have sought information regarding his whereabouts and have requested us to return for a DNA test," said a family member.

Previously, the identity of one of the skulls was established following the discovery of an identity card belonging to one UB Aiyappa from Kodagu. Jeevan, son of Aiyappa from Kodagu, visited the SIT office once again on Thursday.

Meanwhile, the 45-year-old complainant, a former sanitation worker, has recorded a statement under Section 183 for the second time, with the completion of statement recording expected by September 27, as the court has mandated his appearance. Meanwhile, a resident of Belthangady, Shashiraj Shetty, has lodged a complaint with the SIT, urging action against people who have purportedly filed complaints with it while claiming to be witnesses. "Sujatha Bhat has made unfounded assertions. The mother of the late Sowjanya has requested brain mapping of the complainant. This is nothing short of a conspiracy orchestrated by Mahesh Shetty Timarodi, Girish Mattannavar, Jayant T, and others to tarnish the reputation of Shri Kshetra Dharmasthala," he said.

BJP SLAMS SIDDARAMAIAH GOVT OVER SIT

Karnataka BJP president BY Vijayendra questioned CM Siddaramaiah as to who put pressure on him to constitute a SIT to probe the alleged Dharmasthala mass burial case. Vijayendra said after SIT was constituted, there was several false news spread about the temple. "We welcomed the SIT, we want the truth to come out. When there were false and damaging posts, the State Government kept quiet. The government failed to understand the miscreant's purpose. This gang, which made the allegation, had approached the Supreme Court in May 2025 and filed a PIL about the alleged concerning events. The court had criticised the PIL and termed it as Publicity Interest Litigation and even called Paisa Interest Litigation or Political Interest Litigation," he said. Vijayendra said that though the court had criticised, the State Government had hidden this order, and the SIT was constituted. "The maskman gang had put pressure on the government to constitute SIT. When the court felt that there was no public interest in this, why didn't the CM feel it?" he asked.

NATURE'S WONDER

Study explains why preys, predators camouflage & how

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

STUDIES have shown that what appear to be bewildering colours in the wild are actually defenses against predators and prey. A global experiment study report published in the research journal Science on Thursday explains the reasons for it.

The field study titled "The evolution and ecology of multiple anti-predator defense"—also published in the Oxford Academic journal- Journal of Evolutionary Biology—states that studies indicate that anti-predator strategy is more effective in helping insects survive potential predatory attacks.

Along with global researchers, the Indian work was conducted by researchers and students from the National Centre for Biological Sciences (NCBS), Bengaluru.

Dr Iliana Medina from the University of Melbourne, Australia, and Dr William Allen from Swansea University, UK, conducted a global experiment on six continents using more than 15,000 artificial prey in three different colour patterns—a classic warning pattern of orange and black, a dull brown that blends in, and a novel, potentially warning bright blue and black pattern.

These artificial prey models are deployed in forest areas across the world, and they found that the natural predators presumably encountered them and decided either to attack and eat or avoid them. Findings of this experiment revealed that when it comes to deterring predators, the ecological context is crucial, and several factors play a part in determining whether a camouflage or warning strategy works best.

"For a long time, scientists wondered why some animals use one defence over the other—and the answer turns out to be complicated. The predator and prey community and habitat are all influential. This helps explain why we see camouflaged and warning-coloured animals all over the world," Dr Allen said.

The study discovered that the predator community had the biggest impact on which prey colour was most successful against predators. The results supported the notion that when predators compete intensely for food, they are more likely to risk attacking prey that might be dangerous or distasteful. Hence, camouflage worked best in areas with a high predation pressure.

However, being cryptic did not always work.

In bright environments, camouflaged prey was more visible than in darker environments and was attacked more than prey with classic warning colours.

Familiarity with prey using different colour strategies was also important.

In places where cryptic prey was abundant, hiding became less effective, as predators were presumably better at locating camouflaged prey.

Krushnamegh Kunte, Associate Professor and Principal Investigator, Biodiversity Lab, NCBS, said it is a rare insight into how animals, especially insects, which make up a significant proportion of the known species of organisms on earth, evolve such effective anti-predatory strategies over a broad swath of habitats.

Researchers said the findings will now help build a better understanding of the evolution and global distribution of these common, visual anti-predatory strategies in animals.

Helpline launched for debtors in distress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE All-India Financial Borrowers Federation (AIFBF) launched on Thursday the Borrower's Helpline, in partnership with Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI). By calling 080-45888789, borrowers in distress – especially farmers and daily wage labourers – can avail psychological assistance and financial advice.

Former Police Commissioner of Bengaluru Bhaskar Rao inaugurated the number by making the first call to it. As per data shared by AIFBF, 14 farmers commit suicide daily on a national basis due to debt-related distress. The organisation hopes that this helpline number will come in as a critical tool of intervention in this regard.

AIFBF has also written to PM Narendra Modi and Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, urging them to introduce borrower-friendly reforms "to empower women entrepreneurs and startups, strengthen Make in India (policy), boost $5 trillion GDP, and reduce Non-Performing Asset and farmer suicides."

FKCCI president MG Balakrishna said, "I thank AIFBF for bringing us together to discuss this issue. Borrowers or not, they are tax-payers and nation-builders. We believe in building an ecosystem where borrowers are respected… they are an asset to this nation."

ADDRESS ASPIRATIONS OF LADAKH'S YOUTH, ENGAGE WITH LOCALS

A seemingly Gandhian agitation for Ladakh's statehood went sideways in the peaceful town of Leh as a sudden burst of protester fury snowballed into vandalism and a regrettable loss of lives. The agitation was spearheaded by Sonam Wangchuk, who had begun a hunger strike on September 10. What's said to have lit the fuse were concerns over the deteriorating health of some strikers, an administrative response perceived unsatisfactory, and some fiery speeches at the protest venue. However, the actual cause of the violence is a matter of detailed investigation. Ladakh has been placed under curfew and Wangchuk has called off his protest. This is not the outcome he would have wanted. The engineer has inspired generations of scientists through phenomenal contributions to climate innovation and education reforms, which was showcased in the 2009 blockbuster, 3 Idiots. Yet, now it has also emerged that the CBI is probing his Himalayan Institute of Alternatives for alleged violation of the Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act.

The demand for statehood, a separate legislature and Sixth Schedule rights germinated months after Ladakh was carved out of J&K as a separate Union Territory in 2019. The Sixth Schedule provides constitutional safeguards and greater autonomy to tribal areas. If in the undivided J&K Ladakh was the region most ignored by the executive, the Union Territory status ignited a firestorm of aspirations. The protests that followed created an unexpected congruence among the Buddhist-majority Leh and the Muslim-majority Kargil, who until then were like oil and water. Political and religious groups on both sides went on to set up a joint platform and hold multiple rounds of talks with the Union home ministry.

The unrest in Leh is yet another indication of the prevailing discontent among jobless youth who lack avenues to channelise their energies gainfully. Addressing their aspirations holistically with empathy is the only way forward. Since Ladakh shares its borders with China and Pakistan, the Centre would understandably be wary of loosening its grip on the territory. Other innovative mechanisms could be thought of within the framework of the Constitution for seamless consultation with the locals on all matters instead of the Centre taking unilateral decisions through the Lieutenant Governor. As for Wangchuk, he too needs to be wisely engaged with.

CLOSE TRADE DEAL WITH EU ON EQUAL FOOTING

AFTER concluding the UK free trade agreement, the Indian government has moved fast on another trade deal—with the European Union, a bloc that accounts for 17 percent of global GDP and 15 percent of global trade. In their recent joint communication, both sides committed to concluding the negotiations by the end of 2025. India and the EU are spurred by the US's tariff tantrums to expedite the deal and cushion each other from the fallout. However, trading with Europe is not the easiest of tasks, given its stringent phytosanitary rules, and environmental and sustainability clauses. In the communiqué, the EU obliquely raised concerns over India's imports of Russian oil and defence goods. The framework, besides covering the usual issues of market access, also lays down 'robust sustainable development provisions'. These cover a wide array of issues including labour standards, gender equality, environment, and biodiversity protection.

Trade talks are no longer only about tariffs and the movement of goods and services. They cover other aspects of business, investment and even governance, and are backed by World Trade Organization norms. Issues such as gender, environment, labour, and data protection often become a drag on the negotiations. The India-EU talks, which resumed in 2022 after initial attempts in 2007, cover 24 chapters including sustainable food systems, transparency, and good regulatory practices. Some of these chapters are worded in a manner that projects a big-brotherly approach. The developed world has often criticised India for its hard stance on tariffs and some measures of protectionism. It is equally true that the EU has used non-tariff barriers such as standards and norms to limit access for Indian goods.

At the same time, as against the abrasive and unreasonable demands being made by the Trump administration, the EU is a potentially stable partner and lucrative market that India needs to pursue. Therefore, the deadline for concluding the deal must be adhered to. However, India should remain wary of accepting conditions that undermine its own policy prerogatives, cultural ethos, and sovereignty. Perhaps it is too early to learn from the recently-concluded deal with the UK, in which some earlier-held positions on non-trade issues such as gender and labour were given up. Such changes may well be needed—but they are better formulated in Delhi, not Brussels.

QUICK TAKE

POLICING THE POLICE

IN a system where it rarely happens, it's laudable that policemen have been sentenced for custodial torture. A Chennai court on Tuesday handed five policemen life terms for torturing a 36-year-old man at the Kotturpuram police station, which led to his death soon after release. The decision comes when there are increasing allegations of custodial torture across Tamil Nadu, though it is not just a state-specific malady. The National Human Rights Commission received 2,346 intimations of death in judicial custody and 160 in police custody during 2023-24. The aspect that must be improved upon is the speed in prosecuting such cases—the Chennai verdict came 16 years after the act, after the death of two of the five accused.

Most states don't depend too much on their share of the central GST kitty. While some raise considerable amounts through state taxes, others make money from royalties and dividends

HOW STATES CAN PARRY THE THRUST OF GST RATE CUTS

ALAM SRINIVAS

Journalist and author of Storms in the Sea Wind and IPL: An Inside Story, Cricket & Commerce

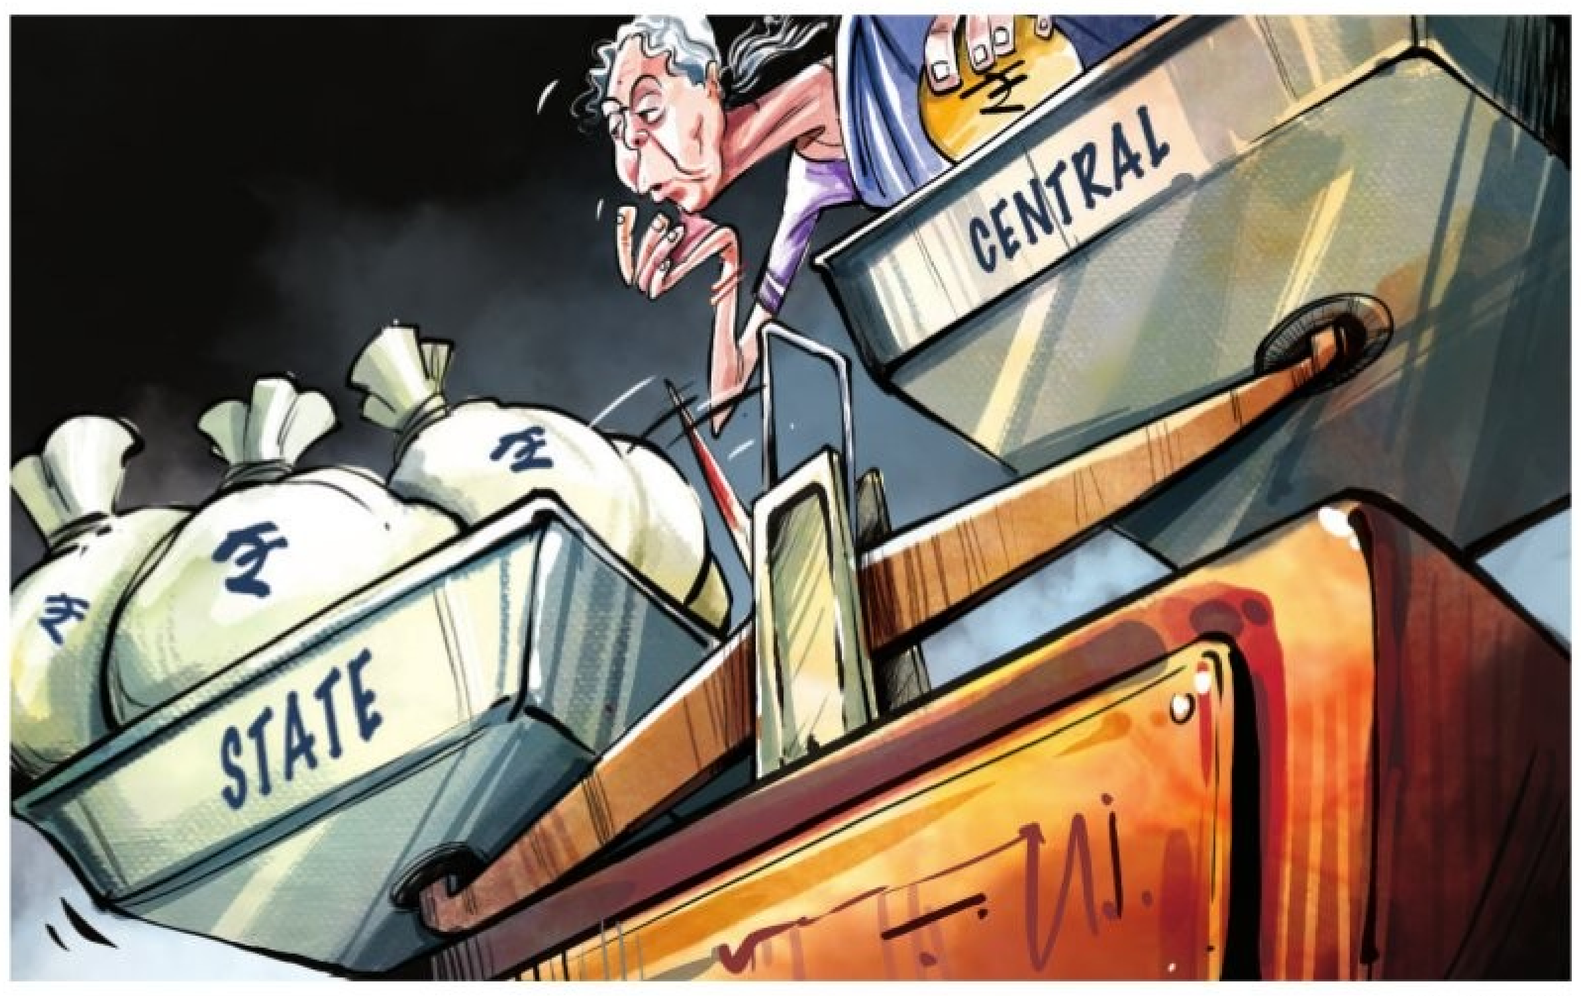
BEFORE the Goods and Services Tax Council met earlier this month to finalise the new rates and transfer hundreds of products from higher to lower slabs, many experts expected verbal fireworks before the real firecrackers on Diwali. The prospect was that the larger and more voluble states would take on Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman regarding fears of a fall in revenues. As taxes come crashing down, the Centre's collections would plummet, and so would the share of states from the central booty. Shockingly, only murmurs and whispers were heard. Instead of two days, the council finished its meeting in a day. The FM claimed that there was complete consensus.

So the hype was created by the experts. The fact remains that states—including some of the larger ones—do not depend too much on the share of central GST collections. It is one of the several myths that were blasted by a first-of-its-kind decadal report—covering 2013-14 to 2022-23—on state finances that was recently released by the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG). "The 10-year comparative data... charts out a trend with respect to the fiscal parameters state-wise, and will provide useful insights to policy-makers and other stakeholders," wrote CAG K Sanjay Murthy in the foreword. As the report does so, some misgivings related to state revenues are cast in a fresh light.

Of the total revenue receipts of 28 states in 2022-23, just over a fourth (27 percent) came from the Centre's taxes. Over the past decade, the annual figure has never crossed 30 percent. Only 10 states gobbled up more than 70 percent of the amount the Centre shared in 2022-23. Uttar Pradesh was the largest beneficiary, receiving almost 18 percent of the total, followed by Bihar (just over 10 percent), and Madhya Pradesh (just under 8 percent). The decadal pattern was similar—the same 10 states accounted for 73 percent of the Centre's devolution.

Indeed, the bulk of states' revenues are generated by themselves. In economic jargon, they include states' own-tax revenues (SOTR) and state non-tax revenues (SNTR). Ironically, the former includes a part of the overall GST, or state GST (generally 50 percent), which goes directly into the states' kitty, apart from value-added tax, sales tax, excise duties on liquor, petroleum products, and electricity (all three excluded from GST), vehicular taxes, land revenue, stamp duties, and registration fees. SNTR includes royalties from minerals and mining, interest and dividends from profitable state-owned units, and user charges and profits from state enterprises involved in supplying transport, power, drinking water, and other amenities.



MANDAR PARDIKAR

While 10 of the smaller states—including the seven Northeastern sisters—accounted for about 3 percent of the combined revenue receipts in 2022-23, the remaining 18 gorged on the remaining amount. For the top seven in the latter category, the annual own-taxes comprised 60-70 percent of their revenue receipts. The top contender was, surprisingly, Haryana at 71 percent; another shocker was Telangana in the third position with 67 percent. The others included the high-consumption states of Maharashtra (68 percent), Karnataka and Gujarat (63 percent each), and Tamil Nadu (62 percent). In comparison, the share of the seven sisters was under 20 percent each.

However, the buoyancy of the combined SOTR over the decade, which is calculated as the ratio between the growth of own-taxes vis-à-vis the state's GDP growth, went up from below 1 in 2014-15 to 1.4 in 2022-23. As expected, the figure dropped to 0.3 in 2019-20 during the Covid year, but it remained over 1, considered a healthy position, in only four of the remaining seven years. In percentage terms, the annual growth rate of overall SOTRs fluctuated wildly between -3.7 percent (2020-21) and over 25 percent the next year (2021-22), probably due to the low-base effect. The figure remained over 10 percent in four of the years under the study.

In comparison, the non-tax revenues were crucial for the mineral-rich, smaller states and some newer states formed in this century. In only eight cases was it more than 10 percent of the annual revenue receipts. For Odisha (over 28 percent), Goa (over 22 percent), and Chhattisgarh and Jharkhand (around 16 percent each), these revenues were crucial. Royalties from minerals sustained Odisha, and comprised nearly 90 percent of its SNTR in 2022-23. Similarly, Rajasthan earned almost 60 percent of its SNTR from royalties related to petroleum, minerals, and metallurgy. Both the states also earned significant amounts, over ₹2,000 crore each, from interest and dividends.

Almost 80 percent of Kerala's non-tax revenues during 2022-23 came from—guess what?—lotteries. This explains why the state agitated vociferously against the GST Council's decision to dump the tax on lotteries in the highest 'sin' category and raise the levy from 28 percent to 40 percent. What's also remarkable is that half of Telangana's SNTR in 2022-23, or nearly ₹10,000 crore came from the sale of land. In August 2025, the Telangana Housing Board sold more than 15 acres in two deals, and earned more than ₹1,000 crore collectively. There is a plan to hold a major land auction in the future to mop up ₹2,700 crore.

What is laudable is that 16 of the 28 states showed revenue surpluses—revenue receipt minus revenue expenditure—in 2022-23. One of the economically smallest states, Arunachal Pradesh, had the highest surplus. One of the newer states, Jharkhand was second. The seemingly-laggard Odisha was third. Worryingly, Maharashtra, one of the largest and richest states, showed an annual revenue deficit, albeit a minor one of less than 0.5 percent. The shockers were Punjab (30 percent), Haryana (over 19 percent), Rajasthan (over 16 percent), and Tamil Nadu (almost 15 percent). Andhra Pradesh possibly suffered from the formation of Telangana, and had the second-highest deficit of more than 27.5 percent. West Bengal, with a revenue shortfall of nearly 14 percent, was on this negative list, which is not a surprise given the state of its industries.

So a reading of the numbers reveals why there was not much protest over the prospect of the central GST kitty shrinking. Our resourceful states find one way or another to raise significant revenues of their own. The point is which routes are sustainable in the long run. But that's a different question.

DON'T MOTHER AWAY THIS CRISIS

THAMIZHACHI THANGAPANDIAN

MP from South Chennai and member of the Standing Committee on Education, Women, Children, Youth & Sports

THE surge of campus suicides is a silent scream echoing off concrete hostel walls, one we can no longer afford to ignore or smother beneath well-intentioned policy. In 2025 alone, more than 13,000 Indian students died by suicide—7.6 percent of all national suicide cases, a rate that claims one young life almost every hour. We read about these tragedies often as fleeting news items, but rarely do we sit with their urgency and stare at their roots. Institutions search for answers, governments convene panels, yet mothers mourn, friends wonder, and those closest to the crisis—students—tread a terrain of isolation.

Into this discourse IIT Kharagpur has introduced 'Campus Mothers', an initiative intending to place women as anchors of emotional care for young adults battling competitive academia. On paper, the premise is warm, almost poetic: women from faculty households voluntarily trained to recognise student distress, reaching out and listening to struggles in unassuming, everyday moments. The institute reaffirms this is not a replacement for professional mental health services, merely a supplement, a gesture of home for students far from family and familiar comforts.

But what happens when good intentions collide with internalised patriarchy? What happens when the burden of emotional labour is once again thrust upon women—not as a celebrated choice, but in reflexive expectation? Like unpaid nurses, teachers, and confidantes, 'campus mothers' are assigned a role so naturalised it vanishes into invisibility. In this initiative, emotional labour is domesticated, feminised, and rendered a campus fixture, never quite named or acknowledged as labour or expertise. The programme arises urgent and experimental, but its design belongs to a social script centuries old: women as caregivers, mothers as emotional shock absorbers.

What troubles me—and should trouble us all—is not just the reproductive logic of gendered care, but the way it shifts the lens from systemic malaise to individual intervention. Are students suicidal because they lack maternal affection, or because institutional architectures remain inhospitable to emotional struggle? Twelve percent of Indian students admit to suicidal thoughts, and 6.7 percent confess prior attempts. Academic failure, toxic competition, and family strife propel young men and women to the brink, while mental health support remains woefully inadequate.

Faculty and administration are often ill-equipped to notice silent suffering, counselling services are stretched thin, and peer environments are toxically competitive. Instead of questioning why institutions fail, we outsource the emotional hope to 'mothers'—never fathers, never paid professionals, assuming some inherited wisdom from motherhood will outwit the violence of loneliness, bullying, or discrimination.

PTI

IIT Kharagpur's Campus Mothers initiative places women from faculty households as anchors of emotional care for young students battling loneliness and competitive pressure. Even with good intentions, it domesticates and feminises emotional labour in a patriarchal manner. The lens is shifted away from the systemic malaise

Patriarchy internalises emotional labour as a woman's duty so deeply that even progressive interventions risk reinforcing it. Campus mothers are trained, yes, and participation is voluntary. Yet, there is a presumption that women, by virtue of biological experience, know how to listen, absorb, and soothe. There's no recognition of how women on campus already bear invisible burdens in both their professional and domestic spheres. This programme risks institutionalising those burdens rather than dismantling them. And when the labour is unpaid, informal, and often unrecognised, it fuses the worst of compliance culture with the soft violence of gender roles, reducing care to a free supplement instead of a rightful campus infrastructure.

What does it mean for the students themselves? Is the promise of an emotional anchor enough to shift the culture of silence and alienation? The trends are relentless: Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh lead in suicide numbers, and districts like Kota, with its infamous coaching centres, become epicentres of tragedy. We must not allow surface gestures to substitute for expensive, necessary reform. What students need are not only listening ears, but systemic change.

Mental health education must be woven into curriculums, not pasted as extra-curricular charity. Faculty should be trained not in the gendered art of mothering, but in active skills of emotional first-aid, gatekeeping, and empathetic leadership. Peer environments should reward camaraderie over competition. Professional counselling must be accessed on campus as a right, not a privilege or compensation gift after tragedy.

This is not to diminish the warmth or heroism of the women signing up for campus mothering, but to insist we see it for what it is: a band-aid on a wound that requires surgery. It is cognitive dissonance to call this progress while neglecting to fund counselling, ignoring the need for mental health professionals, or averting eyes from toxic hostels and relentless curriculum. If anything is to change, our approach to emotional labour must be radically transformed. First, by recognising its worth, next, by redistributing its load, and most importantly by professionalising care to treat mental health as a serious issue.

As I write, I am reminded of how quietly despair circulates, how rarely we witness its full force unless it lands in our backyard. Let this crisis urge us to build policies that recognise student vulnerability as a permanent condition of learning, not as a temporary inconvenience to be mothered away. Let Campus Mothers be a cautionary chapter. Grieve, critique, and act for those sorrowing in silence and those we have lost. (Views are personal)

Postal ballot counting time changed

New EC rule mandates counting of postal ballots before penultimate round of counting EVM

MUKESH RANJAN @New Delhi

ANNOUNCING its 30th major initiative to streamline and bring transparency in the electoral process in the country, the Election Commission of India (ECI) has announced a new time slot for counting postal ballots,officials said on Thursday. They said directives have been issued to Returning Officers (ROs) to complete the counting of postal ballots before the penultimate round of counting of EVM/VVPAT votes.

The move comes amid a significant increase in the number of postal ballots following the poll panel's recent initiatives to enable home voting for Persons with Disabilities (PwDs) and senior citizens aged 85 and above. The officials said that the latest move is aimed at ensuring uniformity, reducing delays, and enhancing transparency in the counting process. "Returning Officers (ROs) are also instructed to deploy adequate counting tables and staff, particularly in constituencies with a high number of postal ballots, to avoid any delay," a senior ECI official said.

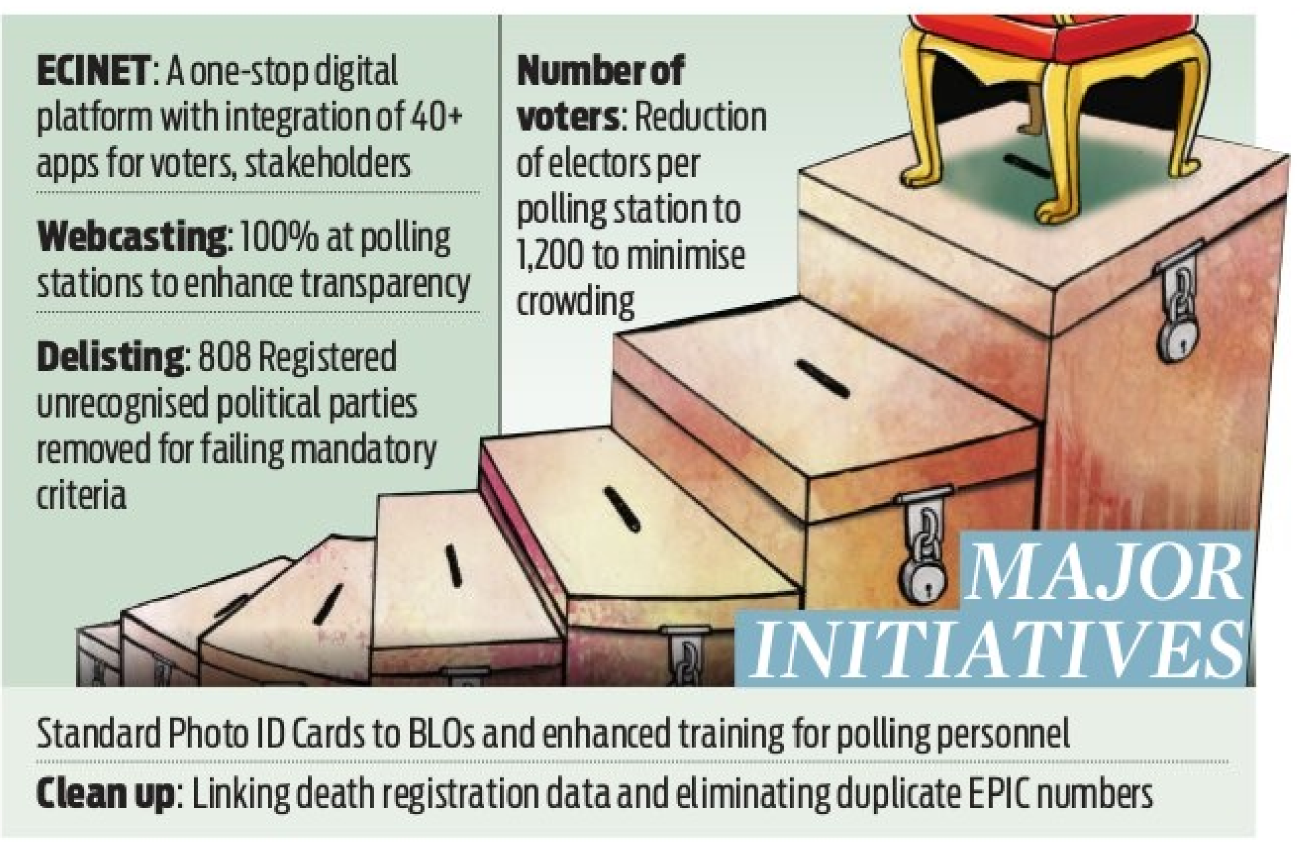
According to the norms, postal ballot counting begins at 8:00 am on the counting day, followed by EVM counting at 8:30 am, the official said. "Although postal ballot counting is usually completed before EVM counting, the new measure formally integrates the process to avoid discrepancies and ensure clarity," he added.

This initiative is the latest in a series of electoral reforms introduced by the ECI to strengthen India's electoral process. Over the past six months, the Commission has implemented 29 key measures. Meanwhile, the poll panel has recently launched a new e-sign feature on its ECINET portal and app, which requires individuals seeking to register as voters, or applying for deletion and corrections, to verify their identity using Aadhaar-linked phone numbers. The official said that the feature was introduced into the system during the second week of this month.

The ECINET is a one-stop platform of the ECI in which over 40 mobile applications have been integrated as one. It went live during the bye-elections to the five Assembly constituencies of Kerala, Gujarat, Punjab, and West Bengal on June 19.

Before ECINET, applicants were required to submit forms 6, 7, and 8, meant for addition, deletion, and corrections respectively, on the Election Commission apps and portal after connecting a phone number with an existing Elector's Photo Identity Card (EPIC) number, with no verification done of whether the details were those of the specific voter.

"But now, after an applicant has filled the form, they are taken to an external portal hosted by the Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (CDAC), where one is required to enter their Aadhaar number and generate an OTP. The OTP is sent to the phone number linked to that Aadhaar number. The applicant must then consent to Aadhaar-based authentication and complete the verification. Only then is the person redirected to the ECINet portal to submit the form," the official said.



ECINET: A one-stop digital platform with integration of 40+ apps for voters, stakeholders

Webcasting: 100% at polling stations to enhance transparency

Delisting: 808 Registered unrecognised political parties removed for failing mandatory criteria

Number of voters: Reduction of electors per polling station to 1,200 to minimise crowding

MAJOR INITIATIVES

Standard Photo ID Cards to BLOs and enhanced training for polling personnel

Clean up: Linking death registration data and eliminating duplicate EPIC numbers

Move after significant increase in postal ballots

The move comes amid a significant increase in the number of postal ballots following the poll panel's recent initiatives to enable home voting for Persons with Disabilities (PwDs) and senior citizens aged 85 and above. The officials said that the latest move is aimed at ensuring uniformity, reducing delays, and enhancing transparency in the counting process. According to the norms, postal ballot counting begins at 8:00 am on the counting day, the official said.

Team BJP: Pradhan for Bihar, Yadav for Bengal, Panda for TN

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

MORE than a fortnight ahead of the anticipated announcement of poll dates for the Bihar Assembly elections, the BJP on Thursday appointed Union minister Dharmendra Pradhan as the state's election in-charge.

The BJP similarly appointed Union Minister Bhupender Yadav and national vice-president Baijayant 'Jay' Panda as election in-charges for next year's assembly elections in two Opposition-ruled states: West Bengal and Tamil Nadu.

In total, the BJP central leadership has assigned four Union ministers, one sitting Deputy CM and one former CM to oversee and craft the party's electoral strategies with the aim of returning to power. Pradhan is well-versed in the dynamics of Bihar's politics and its caste-driven system of social engineering. A well-known OBC face in Bihar, he was also in charge in 2010, when the NDA achieved a record victory by winning 206 out of 243 assembly seats. He has also served as a Rajya Sabha MP from Bihar.

Apart from having a good rapport with CM Nitish Kumar, he also has good relations with leaders of other NDA allies.

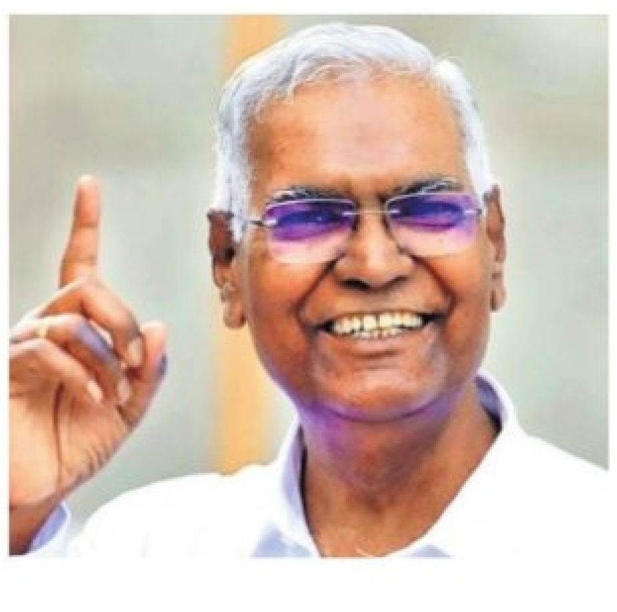
Underlining the BJP's focus on Bihar, Union minister C R Paatil, who heads the party's Gujarat unit and is regarded as a skilled poll strategist, and Uttar Pradesh's Deputy CM K P Maurya, have been appointed as co-in-charges for Bihar.

Similarly, following a strategy based on caste equations, organisational and electoral management experience, the party has appointed Union minister Bhupender Yadav — also a prominent OBC face as election in-charge for the West Bengal election, scheduled for next year. Based on his experience in managing high-stakes elections, such as in Delhi, where the BJP returned to power with a landslide, the BJP has appointed Lok Sabha MP and national vice-president Baijayant 'Jay' Panda as the election in-charge for Tamil Nadu, where elections are scheduled for next year. After Bihar, West Bengal and Tamil Nadu are the two states where the BJP's central leadership is leaving no stone unturned in its efforts to come to power. In Tamil Nadu, the BJP has already forged a pre-poll alliance with the AIADMK. The Assembly elections in West Bengal and Tamil Nadu are expected to be held between March and April 2026.

Former Tripura CM Biplab Kumar Deb has been appointed co-in-charge for West Bengal. Union MoS Murlidhar Mohol has been assigned the role of co-in-charge for Tamil Nadu. The first-time MP is a keen electoral strategist and is seen as a rapport builder in states like Tamil Nadu.

Despite Kerala opposition, Raja re-elected gen secy of CPI for third straight term

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi



THE Left party veteran D Raja has been re-elected as the general secretary of the Communist Party of India (CPI) for a third straight term, as he gets an exemption from the age limit rule for all members of the party secretariat. The Kerala unit, however, opposed extending the age relaxation to him.

Raja became the first Dalit leader to head a communist party in the country when he was given the responsibility in 2019 after the retirement of Sudhakar Reddy. He was reelected at the Party Congress in Vijayawada, Andhra Pradesh, in 2022.

According to the sources, though there were heated exchanges over the age limit, consensus emerged to relax the age limit of 75 years for Raja.

"Although the party constitution prescribes a 75-year age limit, Raja was re-elected owing to his popularity, experience, and strong rapport with leaders of the Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance (INDIA) bloc. His continuation was also seen as strategically important in view of the upcoming Assembly elections in Bihar, West Bengal, Kerala, and Tamil Nadu," said senior party leaders.

Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh and Telangana sought strict adherence to the age limit criteria.

The decision was finalised in the national executive meeting held on Wednesday night during the 25th Party Congress in Chandigarh. All members of the national secretariat, executive and councils, including Raja, were elected unanimously, said Rajya Sabha floor leader and national executive member P Sandosh Kumar.

Sandosh Kumar, from Kerala, is one of the youngest and newest entrants to the national secretariat. In total, five leaders retired from the secretariat. The other new members elected to the panel are Prekash Babu (Kerala), Santosh Kumar (Bihar) and Palla Venkat Reddy (Telangana).

In a 1st, Agni-Prime missile testfired from railway-based mobile launcher

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

SHOWCASING advanced launch platform capabilities, the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), in collaboration with the Strategic Forces Command (SFC), has successfully launched the Intermediate Range Agni-Prime missile from a rail-based mobile launcher in a full operational scenario.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) said the next-generation missile test, conducted on September 24, is designed to cover a range of up to 2,000 km and is equipped with several advanced features. This first launch from a specially designed rail-based mobile launcher marks a significant milestone. The launcher moves freely across the rail network, enabling rapid, low-visibility launches. It is self-sustained, with independent launch capability, advanced communications, and protective systems.

The missile's trajectory was tracked by multiple ground stations, confirming mission objectives were fully met in what officials described as a textbook launch. This successful trial marks the first operational use of a rail-based launch system for Agni-Prime and is expected to lead to future induction of such systems. Senior DRDO scientists and SFC officers witnessed the event.

The road-mobile version of the Agni-Prime has already been inducted into service after a series of successful trials.

As reported earlier by this newspaper, Agni Prime is a two-stage, canisterised, solid-propellant, nuclear-capable ballistic missile equipped with a dual-redundant navigation and guidance system. The canister mode assembly of the missiles facilitates rapid deployment, storage, and mobility. The missile has a range capability of 1,000-2,000 km and represents an advanced variant of the Agni class of missiles.

The Agni series of missiles is part of the Integrated Guided Missile Development Project (IGMDP) initiated by the MoD in 1982. Over time, the Agni series has undergone further development to achieve extended ranges and improved mobility.

The Agni series includes Agni-1 to Agni-5, with Agni-5 having the longest range. The missiles cover a range from 700 km to over 5,000 km.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh congratulated the DRDO, SFC, and the Armed Forces, stating that the successful test had placed India among a select group of nations that have developed canisterised launch systems from rail platforms.

At G20 meet, EAM calls out 'double standards' in global response to conflicts

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

SPEAKING at the G20 Foreign Ministers' meeting on the sidelines of the United Nationals General Assembly (UNGA) on Thursday, External Affairs Minister (EAM) S Jaishankar called out "double standards" in the global response to conflicts and urged the world to show zero tolerance for terrorism.

"Double standards are clearly in evidence," Jaishankar said, as he linked the global development crisis to escalating conflicts in Ukraine and Gaza, highlighting their devastating impact on the Global South.

"Apart from jeopardising supplies and logistics, access and costs themselves became pressure points on nations," he said, adding, "Our focus today is on the correlation between international peace and global development. In recent times, that is well established as both deteriorated in parallel. The costs—especially to the Global South, in terms of energy, food and fertiliser security—were starkly demonstrated. (sic)"

As Western nations increasingly target countries maintaining economic ties with Russia, including India's oil imports, Jaishankar warned against politicising essentials such as energy. "Making energy and other essentials more uncertain in an economically fragile situation helps no one," he stressed, arguing that development cannot be sacrificed in the name of peace.

"Peace can certainly enable development. But by threatening development, we cannot facilitate peace. The way out is to move the needle towards dialogue and diplomacy, not in the opposite direction towards further complications," the EAM urged. Positioning India as a potential bridge-builder in global conflicts, Jaishankar said that countries with access to both sides must be recognised for their role in enabling and maintaining peace.

Turning to the persistent threat of terrorism, Jaishankar called for a united global front, insisting that complacency or selective silence on it undermines collective security.

This massive work is only the headline of the humanitarian services of Mata Amritanandamayi Math, whose body and soul is "Amma", as Mata Amritanandamayi is reverently called by millions.

The postal address of the international headquarters of the Math is not in any posh building in any metropolis. It is in Vallikkavu, a small hamlet in Kerala. An island of just 80 acres surrounded by the sea and backwaters. How come a village is the international headquarters of massive humanitarian services worldwide, spanning the Americas, Africa, Europe, Asia, and Australia?

That is the birthplace of Sudhamani, a simple, smiling girl from the fishing community in that small patch of land disconnected from modernity, who emerged, through decades of penance and boundless love for humanity, as the Hugging Saint and as a global spiritual light. It is she who powers this monumental movement of spirituality and service.

Vallikkavu was where the little-known Sudhamani was born and now lives as the famous Amma. She never shifted out to any more accessible, comfortable, or famous place. Living where she was born, where she crawled, played, and also suffered ill-treatment because the ignorant around her could not understand the mystic in her, her life has been an open book from birth until now.

The size of her massive humanitarian services pales into insignificance compared to the magnitude of the alienated, suffering, and depressed humanity needing love that she has hugged and reconnected to their spiritual roots. Artificial Intelligence estimates she has hugged and comforted over 40 million people. Her divinity has transformed the lives of millions of people of all races, countries, and religions. Her love, rooted in ancient Bharat's Sanatana Dharma, transcends all divides and harmonises all humans she touches.

Thanks to Swargiya P Parameshswaranji, one of the tallest intellectuals of Kerala and the President of Vivekananda Kendra, I had my first darshan of Amma almost three decades ago. After that, I had her unfailing grace and guidance. She immensely supported my effort to bring all Hindu spiritual and service organisations together to showcase their services and promote the environment, respect for parents, elders, and women through samskaras inherent in the Hindu way of life.

As my interactions with Amma became increasingly intense, I realised, to my shock, that she was a spiritual master and more. I had heard that her understanding of structural engineering would awe the architects and engineers building her massive hospitals and centres of excellence, and her intricate knowledge of science would floor the researchers in her nanoscience laboratories.

However, personally, I was stunned when she explained to me one night, till late hours, the entire gamut of the finances of the organisation, its income and expenditure, depreciation, cash surplus, current and future plans, and its budget with numbers at her fingertips! The vastness of knowledge is neither acquired nor acquirable. It is beyond human. It is cosmic.

Amma is a divine mystic. A phenomenon beyond comprehension. A question came to mind. Does she sleep at all? If she does, when? I asked a Sanyasi disciple close to her. He told me, "I don't know. One day, I got up at midnight. I saw her moving around the Ashram. Another day, I got up at 2 am. I saw her walking around. Another day at 4 am. She was around." She is the sentinel of the Ashram and the society – always awake within and outside.

Sri Krishna said in the Bhagwat Gita:

यानिशासर्वभूतानांतस्यांजागर्तिसंयमी ।
यस्यांजाग्रतिभूतानिसानिशापश्यतोमुने:

It means: That which is, night to all beings, in it the sage is awake; where all beings are awake, that is the night for the sage who sees. That is what Amma is.

PM calls upon people to adopt Swadeshi with pride for self-reliance

Entire nation celebrating GST festival: Modi in Raj

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday urged people to adopt ‘Swadeshi’ in their buying-selling culture to strengthen local industries and make India self-reliant.

“For me, Swadeshi means that no matter which country the brand is from, it should be made in India. It should be made by the youth of the country and should have the fragrance of my country’s soil,” Modi said, addressing a rally in Rajasthan’s Banswara.

“We have another goal: a self-reliant India. It is very important that we do not depend on anyone else. We must make Swadeshi our pride. Adopting it should not be limited to purchasing goods. This will strengthen local industries, increase employment, and contribute to the country’s economic progress,” he said, urging traders and shopkeepers to display signs declaring, “The goods sold here are Swadeshi.”

Modi also highlighted the benefits of GST reforms, saying the new standards have freed people from the hassles of tolls and taxes. “During the Congress rule, there was only loot. Under the BJP government, there is only savings. That is why the entire country is celebrating the GST Savings Festival,” he said, adding that household expenses have reduced in a big way due to the GST reforms.

N-power plant among ₹1.08L cr projects launched

During the event, the PM laid the foundation for and inaugurated several projects in the fields of renewable energy, water supply, power, road, and infrastructure worth over ₹1.08 lakh crore. Among the most significant is the Mahi-Banswara nuclear power project, a 2,800 MW facility to be built at a cost of ₹42,000 crore in Banswara. The Prime Minister also flagged off trains from Jodhpur, Bikaner, and Udaipur.

In addition, the PM laid the foundation stone for a 590 MW renewable energy project in Bikaner and a 15.5 GW power transmission line in Jaisalmer, Barmer, Sirohi, Nagaur, and Bikaner. PM Modi also flagged off trains from Jodhpur, Bikaner, and Udaipur, including Vande Bharat Express.

The PM also hit out at the previous Congress government in Rajasthan, saying the state became an “epicentre of paper leaks” during its rule. “The Jal Jeevan Mission was sacrificed due to corruption, atrocities against women were at their peak, and rapists were protected,” he said.

● Promises reservation in private edu institutes, law to protect rights

In Patna, Rahul spells out INDIA bloc’s EBC outreach

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR’S Extremely Backward Classes (EBCs), comprising 36.01 per cent of the state’s population, are going to play a significant role in the assembly elections as the pattern of voting among them is likely to undergo significant change this time.

EBCs have been traditionally voting for the BJP-led NDA but their votes are up for grabs now as Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, who commanded larger support among EBCs, is at the fag end of his political career. It was Nitish who had carved out EBCs from Backward Classes and made them JD(U)’s core supporters.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and RJD’s Tejashwi Prasad Yadav on Wednesday released a 10-point “Ati Pichhada Sankalp’ resolution in Patna, an initiative that explains how much importance the INDIA bloc is attaching to EBCs in the Assembly elections due in October-November.

EBCs are the largest group in the caste-based survey conducted in the state during 2022-23. Nitish has nursed the EBCs with reservations and education and welfare benefits, but now he is not able to inspire the same level of confidence among them.

Says determined to ensure they enjoy full rights

“No matter how many lies and diversionary conspiracies the BJP may try, we are determined to ensure that the most backward, Dalits, Adivasis, minorities and backward communities get their full rights. In Bihar, to empower the most backward communities and increase their participation, we have made concrete promises,” Rahul said, adding, “Education remains the biggest means for their progress.”

“Since Nitish is active in the coming election and NDA is contesting under his leadership, EBCs would not stay away from JD (U) entirely but a section of EBCs would take a decision in their future political alliance post-Nitish,” a political analyst said. He added that the INDIA bloc has taken a lead over NDA in their attempt to woo EBC voters by pledging to bring a law to protect EBCs.

“No matter how many lies and diversionary conspiracies the BJP may try, we are determined to ensure that the most backward, Dalits, Adivasis, minorities and backward communities get their full rights. In Bihar, to empower the most backward communities and increase their participation, we have made concrete promises,” Rahul wrote on X (formerly Twitter) on Thursday.

He said, “Education remains the biggest means for the progress of these communities and therefore, they are special communities to enhance their access in this field—now reservation will also be implemented in private colleges and universities; half of the reserved seats in private schools will go to SC, ST, OBC, EBC children.”

Kashi Ramlila faces crisis from road closures

The 500-year-old Lath Bhairav Ramlila in Varanasi has been disrupted due to road closures caused by flyover construction on the Lath Bhairav–Saraiya route. Barricading by Setu Nigam has blocked access to the Ramlila venue, forcing performances to stop. Committee members, devotees and artists staged a symbolic protest, demanding reopening of the main route. Children dressed as Ram, Lakshman, and Sita sat in protest outside the stage. The Ramlila committee said barricades had been removed earlier for Muharram processions and Baba Lath Bhairav’s wedding festival, but were put back soon after, cutting off access again.

Yogi’s plans for Bundelkhand tourism

CM Yogi Adityanath has written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeking transfer of four ASI-protected forts to the Uttar Pradesh government. The forts are Talbehat Fort in Lalitpur, Kalinjar Fort in Banda, Madfa in Chitrakoot, and Barua Sagar Ghats in Jhansi. In his letter dated September 16, the CM highlighted Bundelkhand’s cultural and historic importance, describing it as the “land of ten rivers” and the “heartland of India.” He said the forts should be restored and developed for tourism. The state govt is already working to transform historic buildings into heritage hotels and cultural centres under the Public-Private Partnership model.

‘Madam Suman’ now in Book of Records 2025

Jhansi’s assistant teacher, who shot to fame for developing an AI-powered humanoid teacher, ‘Madam Suman’, has now entered the India Book of Records 2025 for using the minimum amount of investment in creating an AI robot with a servo motor, wiring, and frame. Madam Suman has been taking classes since May and is able to answer questions across subjects. School attendance has risen from 65% to 95% as no one wants to miss her class; so has student enthusiasm in her riddles increased. The teacher said he designed the robot after noticing colleagues being assigned non-teaching duties, such as managing midday meals.

1K volunteers to join fight against HP drug menace

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

HIMACHAL Pradesh is intensifying its efforts to combat drug abuse with the launch of the Anti-Chitta Volunteer Scheme (ACVS). More than 1,000 volunteers will work alongside the police, communities, and other stakeholders to that end.

Volunteers will raise awareness about the dangers of Chitta and other drugs, report suspicious activity, and support campaigns such as rallies, street plays, and social media messages. They will also help connect affected individuals with counselling and rehabilitation centres. Volunteers will receive an honorarium, and their identities will remain confidential. A two-day training on the NDPS Act, police procedures, and community engagement will prepare them.

Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu said, “Since assuming office, we have declared a war against substance abuse… Our government is committed to protecting youth from the menace of Chitta.”

Students enrolling in colleges will also have to sign an undertaking acknowledging the consequences of drug use and pledging to remain drug-free, as directed by HP DGP Ashok Tewari.

Begin talks, don’t leave ‘void’ in Ladakh, Oppn tells govt

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

A day after violent clashes in Ladakh, Opposition parties urged the Centre on Thursday to engage with the people of Ladakh to address their concerns, warning that if a void is left in the border state, someone else would try to fill it.

National Conference president Farooq Abdullah warned that Ladakh is sensitive and held the Centre responsible for the current situation.

“Hold talks, don’t talk about holding talks. The leaders in Delhi are responsible for the current situation. They kept them busy with talks that lacked substance. The youth are feeling let down. The government should move faster and resolve the issue,” he said.

Abdullah cautioned that neglect could leave the region vulnerable to outside influence. “I want to tell the government that Ladakh is a border state. China is lurking; they have occupied land. It is time to resolve it quickly. The government should hold talks and resolve it,” Abdullah told reporters here.

Asked about the government blaming climate activist Sonam Wangchuk for the violence, the former CM said the peace activist was not responsible for it.

“Wangchuk has never left the Gandhian way. The youth have sidelined him today. He is not responsible for it. When the BJP lost elections, they imposed the public safety law and put people in jail. Now they are using CBI. The more they use force to suppress, the bigger the danger. I want to tell the government of India not to use force and instead hold dialogue,” he added.

Shifting the focus, Congress also criticised the government, stating that the crisis is of the BJP government’s own creation and asserting that Ladakh’s demand for inclusion under the Sixth Schedule, for dignity, and for protection of its identity is both legitimate and just.

Congress’s media and publicity department head, Pawan Khera said the loss of precious lives in Ladakh is tragic. “It’s a grim reminder of the government’s failed promises. In 2019, from the floor of Parliament, the nation was assured that the humiliation being inflicted on the people of the erstwhile state of Jammu and Kashmir then would usher in peace. Six years later, the trouble has only deepened,” Khera said on X.

“Far from restoring normalcy in the valley, the Centre’s shortsightedness has pushed Jammu and Ladakh also into an incinerator of violence. This crisis is the BJP government’s own creation - one it now seeks to unfairly ignore,” he said.

Ladakh’s demand for inclusion under the Sixth Schedule, for dignity, and for the protection of its identity is both legitimate and just, Khera asserted. He insisted Ladakh deserves engagement, empathy, and decisive leadership from the government, not neglect.

Echoing opposition concerns, AAP national convenor Arvind Kejriwal called the situation in Ladakh ‘extremely alarming’ and accused the BJP of denying people’s democratic rights by withholding an elected government.

In a post on X, Kejriwal said, “What is happening in Ladakh today is extremely alarming. Every true patriot should stand with the people of Ladakh.”

75% of 425 additional CAPF companies to join fight against Maoists

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

FOLLOWING recent successes against Left Wing Extremists in Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, and Maharashtra, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has decided to move over 75% of the 425 additional Central Armed Police Force (CAPF) companies—originally deployed for Amarnath Yatra and then kept in Jammu & Kashmir—to Naxal-affected areas for a final offensive against the extremists.

This redeployment is part of the government’s broader strategy to intensify operations against Naxal operatives and their leaders. One senior security official explained, “The troops withdrawn from J&K are expected to be soon moved into the ‘Red Zone’.”

Moving forces from Jammu and Kashmir to the Red Zones of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Odisha, and Maharashtra matches Home Minister Amit Shah’s goal to eliminate Naxalism by March 31, 2026.

“We have planned large-scale operations in Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Odisha, and Maharashtra to target top Maoist leaders, further weaken their command structure, and eliminate Naxalism,” a senior security official said, clarifying the intent behind the actions.

An official said that states such as Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, and Odisha would get special attention, based on intelligence indicating the presence of several Maoist leaders. Plans for area domination will include new tactical approaches, the official noted. Meanwhile, in Jammu and Kashmir, counter-insurgency operations continue under the Indian Army, local police, and CAPFs. However, officials say no additional troop reinforcements are planned, as the government’s immediate priority has shifted to the ‘Red Zones’.

Forces took a step in the Abhujmad forests of Chhattisgarh on Sunday, killing two senior CPI (Maoist) Central Committee members—Raju Dada (Katta Ramachandra Reddy, 63) and Kosa Dada (Kadari Satyanarayana Reddy, 67)—in an encounter near the Chhattisgarh–Maharashtra border. Each carried ₹40 lakh bounties and had been part of the Dandakaranya Special Zonal Committee.

Social media post sparks Gujarat Garba chaos

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

A social media dispute late on Wednesday night sparked violent communal clashes in the Bahial village of Gandhinagar, leaving the Navratri festival in disarray. Trouble began after a provocative status update hurt religious sentiments and spread anger in the area.

As the Garba celebrations were underway, mobs stormed the venue, pelted stones, torched four shops, and vandalised vehicles, including those of the police and the fire brigade. Terrified residents fled. Rioters also attacked police teams, damaging two police vehicles and forcing officers to fire five tear gas shells to disperse the crowd.

District SP Ravi Teja Vasamshetty said the violence stemmed from hurt sentiments. “There was a social media incident that deeply hurt the religious feelings of two communities. Around 11 pm, after a person appealed to update their status, members of one community resorted to stone-throwing. They even attempted to set the person’s shop on fire. In the chaos, windows of police and fire brigade vehicles were also smashed,” he said.

He added, “A group attempted to set fire to the shop of the individual who posted the statue and subsequently targetted our teams. We have made sixty arrests and identified twenty more suspects who will be arrested soon.”

Over 200 personnel and two companies of SRP are now stationed in Bahial, with patrols continuing through the night to prevent further violence.

VHP leader Dharmendra Bhavani said Hindu youth were being targeted. “A youth put up an ‘I Love Mahadev’ status but was made to remove it.”

Rajya Sabha MP Ram Mokaria said, “Certain groups are provoking others during our festivals. There are limits to tolerance. People should unite to promote peace and development instead of disrupting public events.”

Criminal dead in Gandhinagar’s first encounter

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

THE psycho killer who brutally stabbed a youth to death and attacked a young woman near Gandhinagar’s Ambapur Narmada Canal in Gujarat was gunned down by police on Wednesday evening during the first-ever encounter in the city.

The accused, Vipul Parmar, who had stabbed 22-year-old Vaibhav Manwani to death and injured a young woman during a brutal robbery, turned violent during the murder scene reconstruction, attempting to snatch a police revolver and injuring three cops before being shot dead. His body was taken to Gandhinagar Civil Hospital, where the area was sealed off.

Bandmate detained, SIT raids houses of Zubeen’s manager, S’pore fest organiser

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A Special Investigation Team (SIT), set up to probe the death of Assam’s music legend Zubeen Garg, has detained his long-time bandmate Shekhar Jyoti Goswami. The SIT also raided the houses of Shyamkanu Mahanta, organiser of the 4th Northeast India Festival, and Siddharth Sarma, the singer’s manager. According to a senior police officer, Goswami faces imminent arrest.

Tensions escalated as a large number of people attempted to storm Sarma’s house, suspecting he was inside. In response, the police restored order by using force. A crowd remained at the site when reports last came in. During this unrest, the SIT seized documents, including a laptop, from Sarma’s residence.

In light of events, the state government constituted the nine-member SIT, headed by the CID’s Special DGP Munna Prasad Gupta, to probe the death. Garg had died under mysterious circumstances while swimming in Singapore on September 19, after going there to take part in the fest.

Amidst the ongoing investigation, it emerged that 54 FIRs had been lodged across Assam against Mahanta, Sarma, and others. The two are currently absconding.

Against the backdrop of public outrage, Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma issued an appeal, saying, “As rumours are circulating, I would request those who love Zubeen to neither be misled by rumours nor should they mislead others with rumours. Keep faith in the government. The SIT will probe the case properly, and if it fails, we will transfer the investigation to the CBI,” Sarma said.

He said the government would determine what happened that day. “Now, if somebody demands instant justice, we may not be able to proceed in court,” Sarma said, adding, “We all are Zubeen fans.”

He said the SIT would have to work in a manner that would satisfy the court. “If Shyamkanu Mahanta comes, we have to call him and interrogate him. The investigation will proceed step by step, following proper legal processes,” he further stated.

BEIJING

Chinese President Xi Jinping

CHINESE President Xi Jinping has said that the world should stay focused on delivering the climate goals and NDCs despite the US opposition as he announced China's new target to cut emissions by 7 to 10 per cent by 2035. "China will, by 2035, reduce economy-wide net greenhouse gas emissions by 7 per cent to 10 per cent from peak levels, striving to do better," Xi said in a video address to the UN Climate Summit in New York on Wednesday.

China is the largest carbon polluting nation, followed by the US. Xi said China will increase the share of non-fossil fuels in total energy consumption to over 30 per cent, expand the installed capacity of wind and solar power to over six times the 2020 levels, scale up the total forest stock volume to over 24 billion cubic meters and make new energy vehicles the mainstream in the sales of new vehicles.

"Green and low-carbon transition is the trend of the time. While some country is acting against it, the international community should stay focused on the right direction,' Xi said, without directly naming the US. He said the global community should also "remain unwavering in confidence, unremitting in actions and unrelenting in intensity, and push for formulation and delivery on NDCs (Nationally Determined Contributions) with a view to providing more positive energy to the cooperation on global climate governance."

Xi's comments followed US President Donald Trump's address to the UNGA two days ago, during which he decried climate change, calling it the "greatest con job ever perpetrated on the world", and refuted the use of renewable energy. "The entire globalist concept, asking successful industrialised nations to inflict pain on themselves and radically disrupt their entire societies, must be rejected completely and totally," Trump said. Soon after he came to power for his second tenure in January, Trump withdrew the US from the Paris Agreement under the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change, leaving the global efforts to combat the adverse effects of climate change in flux. PTI

US backs revamp of global economic rules

SHANGHAI: The head of a US congressional delegation visiting China said he backed renegotiating the rules governing the global economy to take into account China's rise and that of others such as India and Brazil. Rep Adam Smith, a Democrat from Washington state, told the mayor of Shanghai on Thursday that the US-led post-World War II order has worked well for many countries, including China, but that "we understand that things have changed." His remarks, at end of a five-day trip to China, dovetailed with Chinese leader Xi Jinping's recent announcement of an initiative to build a more equitable global governance system.

Satellite images show that Iran conducted missile test

DUBAI

IRAN has likely carried out an undeclared missile test at its Imam Khomeini Spaceport, satellite photos analysed by The Associated Press showed Thursday, underlining Tehran's effort to maintain its weapons program despite the 12-day war with Israel in June.

Iran has not formally acknowledged last week's test at a circular pad that has hosted other major launches by the country's civilian space programme. A single lawmaker in Iran's parliament, however, claimed, without offering evidence, that Tehran tested a possible intercontinental ballistic missile. The test and the claim raise concerns that Iran may be trying to expand the reach of its missiles as tensions remain high ahead of United Nations sanctions, which are likely to be reimposed this weekend over Tehran's nuclear programme — as it also repairs missile sites that were struck by the Israelis.

North Korea operates four uranium sites, stockpile soars

SEOUL

A top South Korean official said on Thursday that North Korea is operating a total of four uranium enrichment facilities, adding to outside assessments that it has multiple covert atomic plants along with the widely known site near the capital of Pyongyang.

The North's leader Kim Jong Un has called for a rapid expansion of his country's nuclear weapons programme and recently said he would never make the arms a negotiating point in response to overtures by US President Donald Trump. The South's Unification Minister Chung Dong-young said uranium enrichment centrifuges at the four facilities — which would include the known site at Yongbyon, about 100 kilometers north of Pyongyang — are running everyday and stressed the urgency to stop the Chung did not detail the location of North Korea's other undeclared nuclear sites, speaking to local reporters, his ministry said.

Chung cited an assessment that the North possesses 2,000 kilograms (about 4,400 pounds) of highly enriched uranium. He first said that was based on intelligence but the ministry later clarified it was attributed to civilian experts. If confirmed, the amount would also signal a sharp increase in North Korea's stockpile of nuclear material.

In 2018, Stanford scholars, including physicist Siegfried Hecker, estimated North Korea had 250–500 kg of highly enriched uranium, enough for 25–30 nuclear weapons. AP

Trump, Erdogan signal fighter jet sales progress

After talks, Don called it a "good meeting" and hinted at lifting $1.4 billion F-35 hold

WASHINGTON

Donald Trump shakes Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan's hand in the Oval Office of the White House | AP

President Donald Trump held talks with Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan at the White House on Thursday and signaled that the United States might soon lift its hold on sales of advanced fighter jets to Ankara.

During Trump's first term, the US removed Turkey, a NATO ally, from its flagship F-35 fighter jet programme after Turkey purchased an air defense system from Russia. US officials worried that Turkey's use of Russia's S-400 surface-to-air missile system could be used to gather data on the capabilities of the F-35 and that the information could end up in Russian hands.

Trump started his two-hour meeting with Erdogan by offering hope that a resolution to the matter could be found during the leaders' talks.

"He needs certain things, and we need certain things, and we're going to come to a conclusion. You'll know by the end of the day," Trump said. The president added to Erdogan, "And I think you'll be successful with buying the things" you would "like to buy." Trump, in a brief exchange with reporters as he bid farewell to Erdogan, called it a "good meeting" but did not offer further details.

It was Erdogan's first trip to the White House since 2019. They forged what Trump has described as a "very good relationship" during his first White House term. Over the years, US officials have cited concerns about Turkey's human rights record under Erdogan and the country's ties with Russia. Tensions between Turkey and Israel, another important American ally, over Gaza and Syria have made relations difficult with Turkey at times. Trump in remarks before reporters focused his concerns on Turkey's continued economic relationship with Russia.

Turkey has been a major buyer of Russian fossil fuel since the EU's 2023 seaborne oil boycott. Since January 2023, Ankara has purchased more than $90 billion in Russian oil, coal and natural gas. Only China and India have bought more from Russia in that period. "The best thing he could do is not buy oil and gas from Russia," Trump said of Erdogan.

Erdogan has made clear he is eager to see the hold on F-35s lifted, telling Trump that he came prepared to "thoroughly discuss" the issue. AP

Russian warplanes found flying near Alaska for 9th time this year, says US

WASHINGTON

US fighter jets scrambled to identify and intercept four Russian warplanes flying near Alaska, the North American Aerospace Defense Command said on Thursday.

It's the third time in about a month and the ninth time this year NORAD has reported such an incident involving Russian aircraft flying near Alaska. This latest incident happened on Wednesday. NORAD said in a statement issued early Thursday that it detected and tracked two Tu-95s and two Su-35s operating in the Alaskan Air Defense Identification Zone. Nine U.S. aircraft — an E-3 Sentry command and control aircraft, four F-16s and four KC-135 tankers — scrambled to positively identify and intercept the Russian jets, NORAD said.

The Russian aircraft remained in international airspace and did not enter American or Canadian sovereign airspace, it said. Such Russian activity near Alaska occurs regularly and is not seen as a threat, it added in its statement. The incident comes after President Donald Trump said Tuesday he believed Ukraine could win back all territory lost to Russia, a dramatic shift from the Republican's repeated calls for Kyiv to make concessions to end Russia's war in Ukraine.

NATO warned Russia on Tuesday it would use all means to defend against any further breaches of its airspace after the downing this month of Russian drones over Poland and Estonia's report of an intrusion by Russian fighter jets last week. Trump on Tuesday said NATO countries should shoot down Russian aircraft if they enter their airspace. Asked if the U.S. would back up NATO allies in such a situation, Trump said "it depends on the circumstance."

Following a summit with Russian President Vladimir Putin in Alaska last month, Trump said he was arranging for direct talks between Putin and Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy. But Putin has shown no interest in meeting with Zelenskyy, and Moscow has only intensified its bombardment of Ukraine.tors did not occur as a result of the absence of payment, but due to the actions of third parties," the ministry added, saying such an event did not amount to a default. AP

Drone flyovers at Danish airports aimed at sowing fear

COPENHAGEN: Drones flew over four Danish airports overnight Wednesday into Thursday, the latest instance of unexplained drone activity that has raised concerns about security in northern Europe amid growing Russian aggression. Defense Minister Troels Lund Poulsen called the incidents a "hybrid attack" because the flights all occurred within roughly the same timeframe. It was not immediately clear who was behind the incidents, but Lund Poulsen said that it appeared a "professional actor" was behind the "systematic" flights. He did not provide more details during a news conference Thursday.

No govt role for Hamas after war ends: Abbas

UNITED NATIONS

PRESIDENT of the Palestinian Authority, Mahmoud Abbas, speaking over a video after the United States denied his visa, told world leaders on Thursday that his people reject the 2023 Hamas attack on Israel and pledged that the militant group would have no role in governing the Gaza Strip after the war ends and must hand over its weapons to his administration. He told his people: "The dawn of freedom will emerge."

Abbas told the UN General Assembly that Palestinians in Gaza "have been facing a war of genocide, destruction, starvation and displacement" by Israel. His speech came as Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu heads to New York to give his own address in person on Friday. In a short but resolute speech, Abbas lay out his continued vision for a Palestinian state in the West Bank and Gaza alongside Israel. That two-state solution has gained traction after a string of countries — including top US allies — announced recognition of a Palestinian state this past week. But it also appears further than ever from realities on the ground. Netanyahu's government has rejected the creation of a Palestinian state.

Meanwhile, Israel struck houses and tents in central and southern Gaza on Thursday, crushing families inside and killing at least 17 Palestinians, including 10 children and three women, local health officials said, as international pressure for a ceasefire continued to grow. On the sidelines of the United Nations General Assembly in New York, French President Emmanuel Macron told France 24 that his country had recognised a Palestinian state on the conviction it "is the only way to isolate Hamas," which has proved itself able to regenerate even after many of its leaders have been killed. Among the dead were a couple and their five of their children, along with three other children. Another strike hit a tent in Deir al-Balah, killing a girl and wounding seven other people. AP

THREAT POSED BY RUSSIA AND CHINA

Germany to spend €35B on space defence by 2030

BERLIN

GERMANY will spend 35 billion euros on outer space defence by 2030, Defence Minister Boris Pistorius said Thursday, citing the threat posed by Russia and China. "Russia and China have in recent years rapidly expanded their capabilities for conducting warfare in space," he said. "They can disrupt, jam, manipulate or even physically destroy satellites. In space, there are no borders or continents. Russia and China are our immediate neighbours there."

Germany has strongly backed Ukraine in its war against Russia and, under Chancellor Friedrich Merz, vowed to massively step up military spending to help boost NATO's European capabilities. Pistorius said Germany would also build military structures "to enable us to effectively defend ourselves and deter potential adversaries in space". Germany's outer space security architecture would comprise "a resilient system of satellite constellations, ground stations, secure launch capabilities and related services" as well "cybersecurity for all space systems", he said.

Berlin was also "improving our situational awareness in orbit through the use of radar, telescopes and the future deployment of space surveillance satellites".Pistorius, speaking at the Space Congress of the Federation of German Industries, said that "by 2030 alone, we plan to allocate 35 billion euros in budget funds to relevant projects". The minister said that, broadly speaking, "outer space offers us many opportunities: from global communication to Earth observation, from weather forecasting to navigation". Western countries and their rivals in China and Russia have accused each other of seeking to militarise space. AP

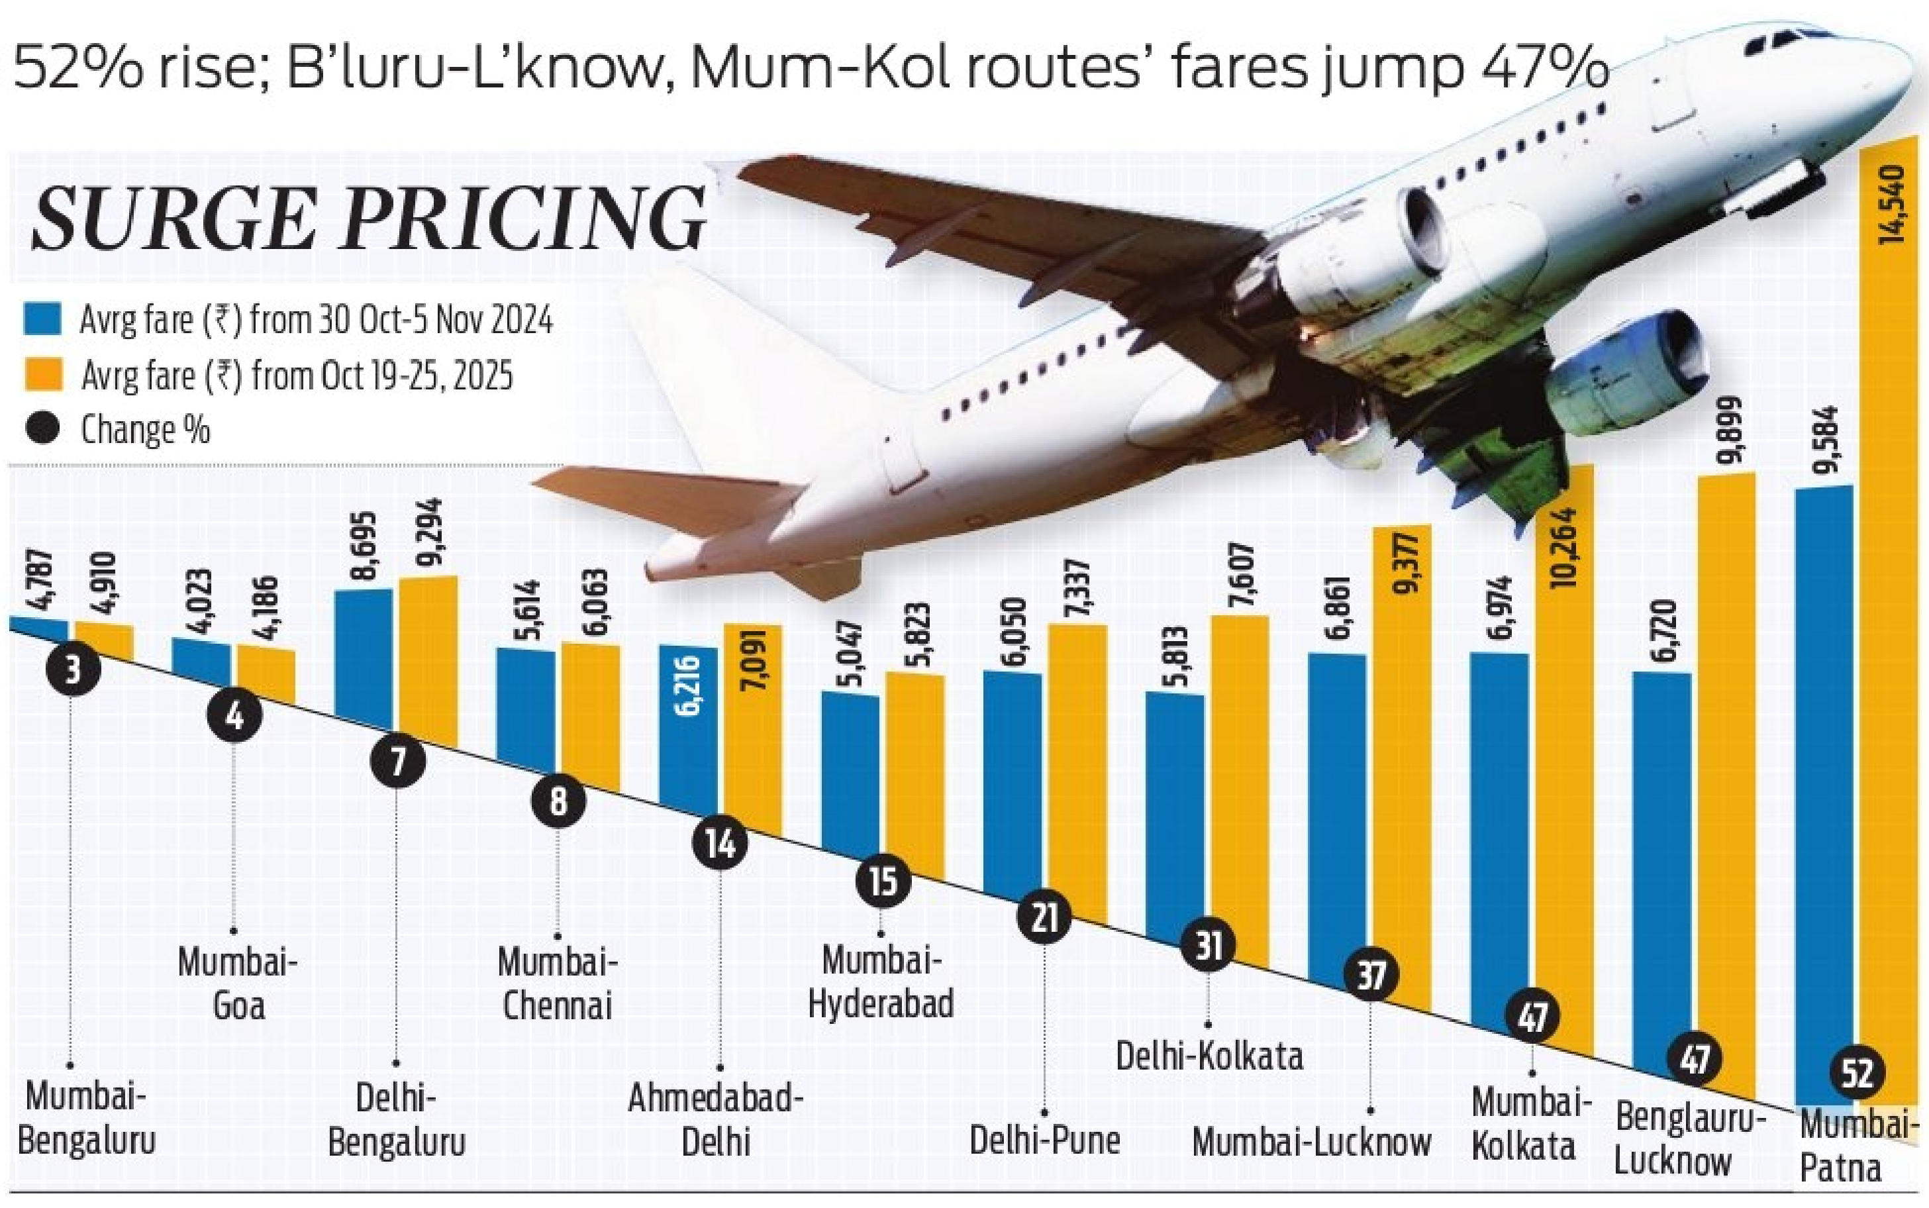
Huge jump in airfares ahead of festivals

Mum-Patna route sees 52% rise; B'luru-L'know, Mum-Kol routes' fares jump 47%

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



DRIVEN by strong festive-season demand, advance airfares across major Indian cities have risen by up to 52% for travel between October 19 and 25, 2025, compared to the peak festive period of last year (October 30 to November 5, 2024).

Online travel aggregator ixigo data shows the Mumbai-Patna route has recorded the steepest rise, with average one-way nonstop fares soaring 52% to ₹14,540 around Diwali festive period. On Bengaluru-Lucknow and Mumbai-Kolkata sectors, fares have jumped 47% each, to ₹9,899 and ₹10,264, respectively.

Aloke Bajpai, Group CEO, ixigo - "Advance flight bookings for the festive season in October have already surpassed last year's trends, with bookings to major metros recording over 100% YoY growth. Given the strong demand, advance airfares to major metros have also increased 20-25% compared to last year. We are also gearing up for festive sales across flights, hotels and buses, including attractive offers and discounts to travellers this festive season." IxiGo said they are seeing a sharp surge in train and bus bookings. Advance train bookings for popular routes have surged by 18-25% this year for Diwali dates while bus bookings this festive season have surged 3x YoY for October 2–12 travel window for Dussehra getaways.

While the outlook remains positive, prolonged rainfall in certain regions is weighing on travel and hospitality industry. Ajay Prakash, vice Chairperson, Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality told TNIE this season has been ókay' but nothing great.

"As compared to last year, it is a bit lower and the primary reason is excessive rain. The rains have been unusually heavy this year. West Bengal just a day before saw torrential downpour, Uttarakhand is another state that has borne nature's fury, so it will have an impact on tourism. No big rise in airfares and hotel room rates so far and it is business as usual so far. However, we expect things to get better once monsoon ends and domestic tourists tend to book last minute, too," stated Prakash. Ravi Gosain, President of IATO, said prolonged rains have played a dampener and airfares and average room rates have not spiked yet. He expects things to perk up for the travel and hospitality industry around Diwali.

FII exits, global cues to weight on earnings

Foreign fund outflows, weak global cues and renewed concerns around US H-1B visa norm likely to weigh on earnings outlook for India's IT sector, dragged sentiment lower. Broader markets mirrored benchmarks on Thursday, with Nifty Midcap100 and Smallcap100 falling 0.6% each

THERE is little to none festive cheer for investors as the equity market extended its losing streak to a fifth straight session on Thursday.

Persistent foreign fund outflows, weak global cues and renewed concerns around the US H-1B visa norm, which is expected to weigh on the earnings outlook for India's IT sector, dragged sentiment lower.

At the close on Thursday, the Sensex fell 555.95 points, or 0.68%, to 81,159.68, while the Nifty slipped 166.05 points, or 0.66%, to settle at 24,890.85. In the past five trading sessions, the two benchmarks have plummeted about 1.8-1.9% each.

The broader markets mirrored the benchmarks on Thursday, with Nifty Midcap100 and Smallcap100 falling 0.6% each. Sectorally, most indices closed in the red, with Realty and IT stocks leading declines.

Siddhartha Khemka, research head, wealth management, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, said on the global front, investors remain cautious ahead of key US economic releases, including GDP and initial jobless claims later on Thursday, followed by the PCE price index (a key gauge of U.S. inflation) due Friday.

Khemka expects markets to remain under pressure in the near term, tracking global headwinds, macroeconomic data, and developments around the India–US trade talks. Concerns over economic growth persist amid the impact of rising global commodity prices, weakening rupee and US tariffs adding to investor caution. Analysts at Baja Broking stated continuous foreign fund withdrawals, and uncertainty around US–India trade negotiations fuelled concerns of a potential Q2 GDP slowdown. At the end of last week's trading session (Sept 19), FIIs sold equities worth ₹180,443 crore through exchanges. So far this week, they have been net sellers.

VK Vijayakumar, chief investment strategist, Geojit Investments, said the major drag on market throughout this year has been sustained selling by FIIs. The FII strategy of selling in India and buying in other markets has paid rich dividends as evidenced by huge underperformance of the Indian market vis-₹-vis others. While Nifty is down 3.6 % YoY Hang Seng is up by 38.6 % and Kospi is up by 33.73 %.

TELCOS TO GOVT

'Resolved cyber security, call quality issues'

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIAN TELECOM providers on Thursday informed the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) that they have resolved key issues related to cyber security, spam control, standards, and technology interoperability.

Senior executives from leading telecom companies — including Akash Ambani and Ravi Gandhi from Reliance Jio, and Abhijit Kishore from Vodafone Idea — met with the Minister for Communications, Jyotiraditya Scindia. During the meeting they said issues such as call standards, spam control, and other concerns have been addressed. The government noted matters related to telemarketer regulations, licence fees, and power supply needs are under review as part of the upcoming telecom policy framework.

"During deliberations, the minister said most pending issues raised earlier by TSPs had been resolved, mainly relating to cyber security, spam control, standards and technology interoperability. Three critical items — digital divide, spectrum authorisation, and business viability of fixed-line services remained under consideration, with stakeholders expected to provide responses to draft rules by October 6, 2025," reads a DoT press note.

E-commerce push: Govt mulls inventory-based export model for MSMEs

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

TO facilitate greater participation of MSMEs in global e-commerce exports, the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) has proposed introducing an inventory-based e-commerce export model. Under this framework, third-party export entities would hold inventory and manage backend processes on behalf of MSMEs.

To operationalise the model, DGFT has suggested amendments to e-commerce FDI regulations, reviewing current prohibition on inventory-based e-commerce for this export-only carve-out.

In its proposal (a copy of which has been reviewed by TNIE), DGFT said less than 10% of MSMEs selling online domestically participate in global e-commerce exports, primarily due to complex documentation, compliance requirements, packaging standards, limited expertise, and high logistics costs. As per the draft framework, the model will be strictly export-only — inventory held by export entities must be exclusively for exports (export inventory) and can't be sold or diverted into domestic tariff area (DTA). Any diversion would be considered a contravention attracting penalties. Only goods manufactured or produced in India and procured from domestic, GST-registered MSME sellers will qualify under this model.

Export entities will be required to establish internal grievance redressal systems to resolve seller complaints within 15 working days. Unresolved issues may be escalated to DGFT, which must provide a resolution within 30 days.

A key safeguard for MSMEs is mandatory pass-through of export-linked benefits. While export entities will be entitled to claim incentives such as GST refunds, duty drawback, and RoDTEP, they will be required to pass these benefits on to MSME sellers on a pro-rata basis. Designated export entities would act as intermediaries, handling paperwork, logistics coordination, and even managing refunds or product returns. They would be able to access export-related incentives, with the government examining mechanisms to ensure that a share of these benefits flow directly to MSMEs.

GST 2.0: Big cos step in to help smaller vendors

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

Small cos seek cushion

While several larger players are extending helping hand, offering support via credit facilities, smaller firms expect more cushioning from corporates and government. Smaller players are seeking help from larger counterparts for faster clearance of payments and hassle-free refund process

WITH the rollout of GST 2.0 on September 22, smaller vendors across pharmaceutical, textiles and fertiliser sectors, who are likely to face challenges due to accumulation of input tax credit (ITC), have sought help from the larger players.

While several larger players are beginning to extend a helping hand, offering support through credit facilities, smaller firms expect more cushioning from corporates and the government. Smaller players are seeking help from larger counterparts for faster clearance of payments and hassle-free refund process. "Larger players in pharma sector can play a key role in supporting smaller companies through knowledge-sharing and collaborative models. Assisting with GST, ITC, and general business financial strategies, we can help smaller players alleviate some of compliance burdens. Larger players can participate in contract manufacturing and pursue joint distribution as well as collaborative logistics to help ease burden on smaller firms," said Jeevan Kasara, director and CEO, Steris Healthcare.

Abbott, for instance, announced that all purchases made between September 1 and September 30 will be eligible for an additional credit period of 30 days — an gesture aimed at easing transition. Even Sun Pharma assured to help to smaller players and distributors. The fertiliser sector is adopting a similar stance. "Larger players like us can assist smaller players in the form of extended credit facilities, joint logistic arrangements, and sharing of compliance knowledge under GST. Larger players can assist in mitigating financial strain that smaller players might experience during this transition," said Abhishek Wadekar, founder chairman, Tradelink International.

In textiles sector, smaller firms have asked their bigger clients for quicker clearances and more equitable procurement practices. "Bigger companies can extend faster payment cycles, ensure fair procurement practices, and even share knowledge on compliance, sustainability and new technologies. Many MSMEs face challenges in working capital and market access, and partnerships with established players can give them stability," said Dharmesh Dattani, CFO, Vishal Fabrics.

Strengthen balance sheet: FM to banks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Pune

FINANCE minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday asked banks, especially those under her watch, to strengthen their balance sheets so that they can fund more to the high cash-burning infrastructure sector.

This comes at a time when the banking regulator is nudging banks to move away from infra lending by deepening the bond markets. Corporates have been borrowing more from debt market than from banks in recent years, taking corporate bonds outstanding to ₹53.6 lakh crore as of March 2025, up from ₹17.3 lakh crore in March 2015, as per Sebi data. Banks' total outstanding corporate loan book is only about ₹80 lakh crore or about 30% of the ₹253 lakh crore credit book .

She asked state-run banks to raise their collaboration with non-banks to increase their co-lending books.

Addressing the 91st foundation day of Bank of Maharashtra here on Thursday, she said from being hit by twin balance sheet problem of fiscal 2013 and 2014, today the economy has twin balance sheet advantage by way of stronger banks with stronger balance sheets and deleveraged corporates who are said to be sitting on ₹13.5 lakh crore cash pile. "Financial institutions play a key role in national infra building and the efforts which go towards it, mainly for MSMEs. So as our economy grows, so does demand for credit and innovative financial products and capital expenditure."

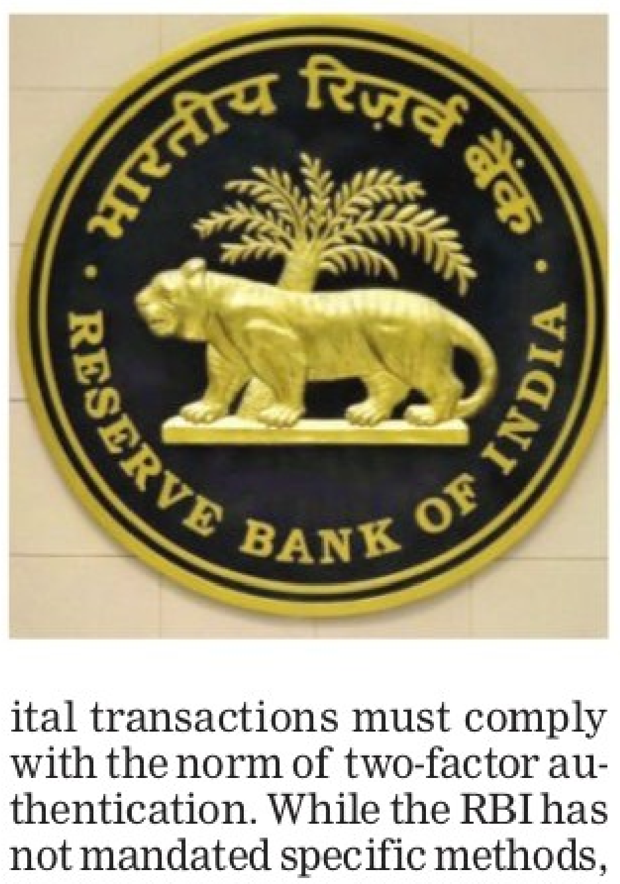
Digital payments: Reserve Bank issues new authentication norms

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai



TO ensure robust security and user protection as the digital payments ecosystem grows manifold, the RBI has issued a comprehensive framework for strengthening the authentication mechanisms in digital payments effective next April.

Currently, most digital payments rely on SMS-based one-time passwords (OTPs) as the additional factor. The move comes amid rapid growth in the digital payments ecosystem that has seen exponential adoption across UPI, cards, and wallet-based platforms.

The central bank said on Thursday that authentication factors may include "something the user has," "something the user knows," or "something the user is", and can comprise, among others, passwords, SMS-based OTPs, passphrases, PINs, card hardware, software tokens, fingerprints, or any other biometric methods either device-native or Aadhaar-based.

Under the new rules, all digital transactions must comply with the norm of two-factor authentication. While the RBI has not mandated specific methods, the system must draw from at least two categories - something the user knows (a password or PIN), something the user has (a card, hardware token, or software token), and something the user is (biometric identifiers like fingerprint or Aadhaar-based verification).

The RBI has clarified that going forward, at least one of the factors should be created, meaning it must be unique to each transaction and validated in real time. In a major shift, the RBI has asked issuers to adopt risk-based approaches for certain transactions. This means payment providers can flag and evaluate transactions against behavioural and contextual parameters such as the user's location, device details, or past transaction history.

"Based on perceived risk associated with the transaction, additional checks beyond the minimum two-factor authentication may be resorted to," the RBI said in the new circular.

The regulator has asked the issuers to explore use of DigiLocker for notifications and confirmations in high-risk transactions. The new guidelines address authentication in cross-border payments, which have been vulnerable to fraud. While the rules will not apply to all cross-border digital transactions, the RBI has directed card issuers to implement risk-based mechanisms to handle cross-border card-not-present transactions from October 1, 2026.

Housing sales drop 9% YoY in top 7 cities in July-Sept quarter: Anarock

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

Total sales value increases by 14% in third quarter

Despite lower overall sales volume, total sales value in the period went up by 14% — from Rs 1.33 lakh crore in Q3 2024 to Rs 1.52 lakh crore in Q3 2025. Anarock stated that despite the monsoons and the perceived inauspicious 'shraad' period, housing sales rose 1% in Q3 2025.

HOUSING SALES in India is likely to have fallen 9% year-on-year in the July-September quarter of calendar year 2025 (Q3 2025). According to Anarock data, approximately 97,080 units were sold across the top 7 cities in Q3 2025, against 1.07+ lakh units in Q3 2024.

Despite lower overall sales volume, total sales value in the period went up by 14% — from Rs 1.33 lakh crore in Q3 2024 to Rs 1.52 lakh crore in Q3 2025.

Anarock stated that despite the monsoons and the perceived inauspicious 'shraad' period, housing sales in Q3 rose 1% quarter-on-quarter in Q3.

Overall, the housing market is so far reasonably steady in 2025, with expectations for a festive boost ahead for which developers have several projects lined up, it added.

Anuj Puri, Chairman of ANAROCK Group said that the impact, if any, of the new H1-B visa norms announced by the US on Indian residential market bears close monitoring.

"While housing affordability remains a challenge across cities for many buyers, price growth has tapered down moderately compared to the previous few years, when we saw double-digit yearly growth in the top 7 cities," added Puri.

After staggering year-on-year average price growth in the last three years, the top 7 cities saw average price growth of 9% annually - from Rs 8,390/sq. ft. in Q3 2024 to Rs 9,105/sq. ft. in Q3 2025.

Among the top 7 cities, NCR saw the highest 24% annual jump in average prices. On a quarterly basis, average prices in the top 7 cities rose by 1%, as per Anarock data.

Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR) recorded the highest sales among the top 7 cities in Q3 2025, with approx. 30,260 units sold - a quarterly decrease of 3% and a 16% yearly drop. Pune saw approx. 16,620 units sold in Q3 2025, a decrease of 13% yoy.

The National Capital Region (NCR) saw approx. 13,920 units sold in Q3 2025, a decline of 11% over last year. Bengaluru sold approx. 14,835 units in Q3 2025, a yearly decline of 1%.

Ashwin signs with BBL side Sydney Sixers

R Ashwin on Thursday became the first major Indian cricketer to join the Big Bash League by signing up with Sydney Thunder. Ashwin recently announced his retirement from the IPL, making him eligible to play in leagues around the world. The off-spinner had said goodbye to international cricket in the middle of the Australia tour last year.

How Asia Cup has turned into geopolitical theatre

Focus around cricket has taken a backseat in continental meet

XPLAINER

THE Asia Cup has descended into full-on geopolitical theatre with focus around cricket taking a backseat. Both India and Pakistan have indulged in a war of words and ugly gestures ever since they played each other in their first fixture on September 14. A look at what has happened between the two teams since they foot in Dubai over three weeks ago...

● Can this recent animosity between cricketers of both countries be traced back to a single flashpoint?
Unlikely but you can argue that this kind of new normal in the relations between the two countries was in the post after India deviated from the normal pre-match ritual of shaking the opposition captain's hands. We do not yet know if Suryakumar Yadav was acting on his own volition or if it was a decision taken elsewhere like the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) had alleged. After that first match, the Indian team's refusal to go through the post-match routine of exchanging pleasantries and handshakes caused further rift.

● Why did the Indian team decide to drop standard pre and post-match rituals?
It's hard to say why. But the Indian team captain, in the post-match press conference, did say the move to not shake hands was aligned with the view of the Indian government as well as the Board of Control for Cricket in India. Pakistan didn't take that move all that well. Coach Mike Hesson said they were 'disappointed'. After that, their team management registered a protest. They also alleged that match referee Andy Pycroft was responsible for the episode at the toss. The ICC didn't entertain PCB's request and Pycroft remained.

● What happened in the second game?
The lead up was dominated by whether India would now stick to the policy they had established — no handshakes. They stuck to it. However, tensions pretty soon spilled into other avenues as well. First, there was excessive aggression between Pakistan's new-ball bowlers and India's openers. There was also several episodes involving Pakistan cricketers, whose gestures brought immediate unpleasant memories involving the targeted attacks at Pahalgam as well as the subsequent cross-border military responses by both countries.

● What were those actions?
While Sahibzada Farhan used his bat to mimic a gun-fire celebration, Haris Rauf engaged with Indian fans near the boundary where the pacer mimicked a jet going down. Now, sportspersons have been known for their gun-fire celebrations but Farhan doesn't have a big history of celebrating like that. The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) clearly didn't like it and soon lodged a complaint with the ICC.

● Did India see those actions?
In the pre-match conference on Tuesday, Ryan ten Doeschate suggested that they did. "I did see some of the things Haris did and that's not our concern. Like I said earlier, we're really proud of how the guys carried themselves. They fought fire with their bats on the field. Other teams may have had issues with some of the things we've done. But from our side, we're proud of how the guys have carried themselves.

"Let me first say, the amount of pressure that's been heaped on the players because of the situation, it's very difficult to control your behaviour," India's assistant coach.

● Have the administrators reacted to this?
The BCCI have maintained a wall of silence about this whole issue so far. But Mohsin Naqvi, PCB Chairman, fanned some more flames when he posted a short video of Cristiano Ronaldo mimicking a jet going down celebration. It's caused further angst to an already fragile relationship.

● Will there be some repercussions for the actions?
Farhan and Rauf may have to meet Richie Richardson, one of the ICC mandated match referees at this tournament. With respect to bans, it depends on how the ICC decides to view the entire issue.

Pakistan players celebrate a wicket against Bangladesh in Dubai on Thursday | AFP

Final destination: India vs Pakistan in summit match

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

INDIA and Pakistan will once again square up against each other in the Asia Cup, this time in the all-important final, scheduled to be held on Sunday. This, after Pakistan's 11-run victory over Bangladesh in the Super Fours in Dubai on Thursday.

After a horror start, Pakistan lower order batters — Mohammad Nawaz, Shaheen Shah Afridi and Faheem Ashraf — came to the rescue to help team post 135/8. In the second essay, the Pakistan bowlers took control of the proceedings, taking wickets at regular intervals, to help team get over the line. Sunday's match will be the third meeting between India and Pakistan in the ongoing continental meet. Brief scores: Pakistan 135/8 in 20 ovs (Haris 31, Nawaz 25; Taskin 3/28) bt Bangladesh 124/9 in 20 ovs (Shamim 30; Shaheen 3/17, Haris 3/33; Ayub 2/16).

COACH JAMIL ON PLAYER AVAILABILITY ISSUE AND SINGAPORE TEST

CHANDRA PRABHU @Chennai

AFTER taking over as head coach of the senior men's national football team in August, Khalid Jamil has had a start full of promise after the Blue Tigers' creditable third-place finish in the CAFA Nations Cup in the same month. His next assignment — two games against Singapore in the AFC Asian Cup Qualifiers in October — could be a stiffer rest for Jamil. The fact that India are languishing at the bottom of Group C of the qualifiers with lower-ranked teams, Hong Kong and Bangladesh, placed higher in the table with only four games to play makes these games more crucial. In a chat with the New Indian Express in Bengaluru last week, Jamil opened up on the player availability situation, the team's goal-scoring issue and more. Excerpts:

Q&A

● On his experience so far as India coach...
It has been a good experience. It is a good experience to play with good teams. But the main thing now is that we are thinking about this game (vs Singapore). It is an important game for us. It will be very good. But one difficulty I am facing is that (clubs are) not releasing the players in the camp.

● On key issues which need to be addressed
At present, it is the release of the players (by clubs). Out of 30 players, only 16-17 players (as of Thursday, that number had reportedly risen to 18) have come. Last time, Mohun Bagan players said they were not coming. But we solved it. It is good that we have (given) chances to new players. So this time, if some clubs are not releasing, I have to find a solution because tomorrow (September 20) I am starting the camp, I will see who is not there, who is available. Because for me, I also need time. For example, if I call some player, one player, it is not about one or two days, because (in the) U23, we have many players. I cannot give them chances in two days, directly to the senior team. They also must be there. I need to play practice matches. They must know me — how I am going to play. That is the main thing.

● On what they (AIFF) have done to address player availability
Yes, (AIFF) just told them (clubs) that we are doing this camp. We have already spoken to them. They are cooperating. They (both Mohun Bagan SC and FC Goa) are also having matches. But for us we have to see where the solution we have to find. Either I continue with that player which I called or I make a replacement.

● On the issue of goalscoring
We are doing work. But it is about getting the opportunity. Last time, we gave chances to Irfan (Yadwad), Manvir (Singh). We have to find another solution. They also need more matches. And we have to find another player.

● On whether the ISL impasse played in his mind
Yes, it is going to affect the players. Now, slowly, the problem is getting solved. They are going to play in the Super Cup. And after that, ISL will be there. That is a good thing. And mentally, they are happy.

● On what he told the players to get their confidence back after a dull period in previous management
I told them, 'just play your natural game. You don't have to change anything'. And whatever your plus point, just you have to do it. If you make a mistake, no problem. Try again. Try to rectify your mistake. And the main thing is, 'play your natural game'.

● On his take on the Singapore team, India's upcoming opponent
Yes, I have seen some matches. I need some time to look and work with the players. With (Sandesh) Jhingan coming back, it will be a big boost for us. He was on the bench in our last game (vs Oman).

● On his transition from Jamshedpur FC to the national team
Yes, I didn't get any time. Because after the Durand Cup, I went there (national team) immediately. Then we went to the CAFA Cup. Okay. So, there was no gap to think about positive and negative. But it was a good experience there. And it is my pleasure to become coach for the national team.

SHREYAS TO LEAD IND A VERSUS OZ

Shreyas Iyer was appointed India A captain fora three-match one-day series against Australia in Kanpur from September 30. The BCCI confirmed that Shreyas will return to the contention for Tests after he recovers from his back spasm post his back surgery. "He wishes to utilise this period to build endurance, body resilience and work on his fitness. In view of his decision, he was not considered for selection for the Irani Cup," BCCI secretary Devajit Saikia stated.

'Keen' Bumrah ready for Windies Test series

GOMESH S @Chennai

IT is official. Less than 90 hours after walking off the field in the Asia Cup final on Sunday, Jasprit Bumrah is set to take part in the first Test against West Indies in Ahmedabad on Thursday, October 2. The senior pacer, whose workload has been one of the biggest talking points over the last few months, will be available for both the Tests, confirmed chief selector Ajit Agarkar on Thursday. "We've had a fair break after England. He didn't play the fifth Test either. So, there's been a bit of a five-week break, and even this tournament has been fairly spaced out until this last week. So, no, he's ready and keen to play both Test matches," Agarkar said at a press conference in Dubai on Thursday.

Going by the squad named for the two Tests, it seems likely this is the end of the road for Karun Nair, with Devdutt Padikkal coming back from a long injury layoff. The same seems to be the case for senior pacer Mohammed Shami and back-up opener Abhimanyu Easwaran.

Meanwhile, B Sai Sudharsan is set to get a longer rope at No 3 with Axar Patel making a return to the Test side. The bowling all-rounder will be sharing the spin-bowling duties with Washington Sundar, Kuldeep Yadav and Ravindra Jadeja, who has been named as the vice-captain for the series in the absence of Rishabh Pant. The veteran left-arm spinner was seen training for the series at the BCCI Centre of Excellence on Thursday, along with opener Yashasvi Jaiswal. Similarly, Sarfaraz Khan was also spotted at the CoE on Thursday, whom Agarkar said was injured and still recovering. This will be the first time Jadeja plays a home Test without his long-time partner-in-crime — R Ashwin.

The last time Ashwin and Jadeja played together in a Test was in the third match against New Zealand at Wankhede where India went on to lose the home series 0-3. Agarkar called that defeat a "wake up call" and said that they don't want it to happen again. "We've generally been very strong at home (for a long time). That was after a while, when we've had a few bad results, and we want to try and put it right. All four Test matches that we'll play at home to West Indies and to South Africa become very critical. Before the WTC, you want to try and get as many points as possible, particularly at home. It's a game, so anything is possible, but you don't want to try and let what happened against New Zealand happen again," Agarkar explained.

WRESTLING

Ahmedabad may host U20 Worlds in 2026

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THE Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) recently submitted a bid with the parent body, United World Wrestling (UWW), expressing interest to host the 2026 U20 World Championships. The Veer Savarkar Sports Complex in Ahmedabad, Gujarat could be the venue if the UWW accepts WFI's bid. Ahead of the tournament, which could be first of its stature in the country, the WFI will hold the 2025 senior national championships at the venue as a test event.

"We had talks with the UWW Bureau in this regard during the Senior World Championships that concluded in Zagreb, Croatia a few days ago. The UWW asked the WFI to file the bid and the same has been done," Sanjay Kumar Singh, the WFI president, said. Singh is also scheduled to visit Ahmedabad to inspect the venue on September 29. The chosen venue had hosted the Commonwealth Weightlifting Championships last month.

India is already a strong contender to host the 2030 Commonwealth Games in Ahmedabad and presented its proposal to the Evaluation Committee of Commonwealth Sport on Tuesday. Besides, the country has also submitted a bid to host the 2036 Olympics and proposed Ahmedabad as the host city. Hosting U20 wrestling Worlds will only add weight to India's proposals for hosting the two multi-sport events.

Notably, Bahrain's Manama was allotted the championships, which is slated from August 17 to 23 next year. However, Manama also got the hosting rights of the 2026 senior World Championships. It is scheduled from September 5 to 13. But the UWW apparently wanted Bahrain to host either one championships and it has chosen to go with the senior Worlds. "We got to know about the situation during the Worlds and immediately conveyed our intention to host the U20 Worlds. The UWW will make an announcement in this regard soon," Singh added.

Champions and contenders

On one side, defending champions Australia, and on the other side, perennial contenders India. A look at how they shape up...

ICC WOMEN'S CRICKET WORLD CUP INDIA 2025
4 DAYS TO GO

Harmanpreet Kaur
Alyssa Healy

INDIA

Strength: Their batting. Smriti Mandhana is in the form of her life, and is well complemented by Pratika Rawal and Harmanpreet Kaur. With Jemimah Rodrigues coming in at five, they have a solid top-order who can dominate. They also have several all-rounders in Deepti Sharma, Sneh Rana, Arundhati Reddy and Amanjot Kaur. It will all come down to how they step up against stronger opponents.

Drawbacks: Injuries. Both Renuka Singh and Amanjot are coming on the back of injuries and if one of them get ruled out, it would be a big blow. Then there is the concern of Harleen Deol, the designated No 3, which has proven to stagnate things after the first wicket. The form of spinners — they have four finger spinners — is also a concern, especially if the pitches are going to be batting-friendly as it was during the India-Australia series.

SQUAD: Harmanpreet (c), Mandhana (vc), Rawal, Deol, Rodrigues, Ghosh, Bhatia, Renuka, Deepti, Rana, Sree Charani, Radha, Amanjot, Arundhati, Kranti.

AUSTRALIA

Strength: Could be an endless list. There is a reason why they are world beaters. Their incredible depth in the line-up that is filled with match-winners and leaders makes them strong favourites. Led by Alyssa Healy, they come in with a wealth of experience and know what it takes to win World Cups. In Phoebe Litchfield and Annabel Sutherland, they have the most exciting prospects of this generation. This could be the tournament where the young duo take the world by storm.

Drawbacks: On paper, it is hard to find any. They have injury concerns for Sophie Molineux and will have to manage their player workload properly, especially to cope with the heat and humidity in the subcontinent. The only way they get taken down is if a team manages to come out and blow them out of the water when they least expect it.

SQUAD: Healy (c), Brown, Gardner, Garth, Graham, King, Litchfield, McGrath, Molineux, Mooney, Perry, Schutt, Sutherland, Voll, Wareham.

Qualcomm's Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5: The fastest mobile chip yet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

QUALCOMM on Wednesday launched the Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5, calling it the fastest mobile processor ever made. According to the company, this new chip is designed to make smartphones and tablets faster, smarter, and more efficient than ever before.

The Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5 is the successor to the Snapdragon 8 Gen 3, currently powering flagship devices such as the Samsung Galaxy S25 Ultra, OnePlus 13, and more.

"With Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5, you are at the centre of your mobile experience. It enables personalised AI agents to see what you see, hear what you hear, and think with you in real time," said Chris Patrick, senior vice-president and general manager, mobile handset, Qualcomm Technologies, Inc.

"Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5 pushes the boundaries of personal AI, allowing you to experience the future of mobile technology today."

HOW IS IT BETTER?

According to Qualcomm, the new chip enables faster multitasking, allowing users to switch between apps smoothly without lag. It also enhances gaming performance, supporting longer play sessions with less heating and better battery life. A key highlight is its smart AI capabilities. The chip learns how you use your phone and offers helpful suggestions—such as recommending apps or adjusting brightness—while keeping your personal data on the device to protect your privacy.

For content creators, the chip supports Advanced Professional Video (APV) recording, allowing users to shoot studio-quality, professional-level videos directly from their smartphones.

Powered by the Oryon CPU, Adreno GPU, and Hexagon NPU, the Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5 delivers a 20% performance boost over its predecessor, ensuring a smooth and powerful experience across apps, games, and media.

COMING SOON IN PREMIUM PHONES

The Xiaomi 17 series is the first confirmed smartphone line to feature the new Snapdragon 8 Elite Gen 5. These devices are expected to launch in India shortly after the global release.

The chipset will also power flagship devices from a wide range of global OEMs and smartphone brands, including Honor, iQOO, Nubia, OnePlus, OPPO, POCO, realme, Redmi, RedMagic, ROG, Samsung, Sony, vivo, Xiaomi, and ZTE. New product announcements are expected in the coming days. While pricing hasn't been officially revealed, devices with this chip are expected to fall into the premium segment, similar to current flagship phones. Pre-order information and India-specific launch dates will be announced soon as manufacturers share their release timelines.

INDIA'S AVERAGE MOBILE PHONE SELLING PRICE IN 2025 TO BE UNDER ₹22K

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIA'S average selling price (ASP) of mobile phones is expected to remain below $250 (₹22,100) in 2025, according to a report by Counterpoint Research. This means that, on average, people in India will spend less than $250 on a mobile phone this year. In comparison, the global ASP is projected to reach $370 (₹32,800) in the same period. However, the report also notes that, due to premiumisation, India's ASP is expected to gradually increase to $287 (₹25,400) by 2029. This growth is being driven by the migration from feature phones to smartphones, rising demand in rural and semi-urban areas, and increasing digital adoption across the country.

"India will continue to support the mid-range segment, with its ASP remaining below $250 in 2025 but gradually increasing amid premiumisation to reach $287 by 2029," reads the report.

Global ASP trends

Globally, the average selling price of smartphones is steadily rising. In 2024, the ASP stood at around $357 and is expected to climb to $370 in 2025, eventually reaching $412 by 2029. This reflects a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 3%. According to the report, this upward trend is fuelled by consumers opting for more premium devices and the growing adoption of 5G technology, even in mid-range models.

North America continues to be the most premium smartphone market, with ASP expected to grow 7% in 2025, reaching nearly $984 by 2026. China's smartphone ASP is forecast to rise 3.6% in 2025, driven by strong performance from local brands like Huawei, OPPO, and Vivo, alongside solid sales of premium Apple models.

Brand-wise ASP leaders

In terms of brands, Apple continues to dominate the premium smartphone market. The iPhone's ASP is projected to increase from $919 in 2025 to nearly $1,000 by 2029. According to Counterpoint Research, Apple is following a dual strategy: expanding in emerging markets with more affordable models like the iPhone 'e' and 'Air', while maintaining its premium status through Pro models and a foldable iPhone expected in 2026.

Between 2026 and 2029, regions like the US, China, and Europe will remain Apple's strongest markets. Meanwhile, price-sensitive markets such as Latin America, the Middle East and Africa, and India will see higher year-on-year shipment growth, driven largely by the demand for base and older-generation iPhones.

Samsung, Apple's closest competitor, is expected to keep its ASP relatively stable. However, weaker sales of flagship models in early 2025 could slightly lower its ASP. Still, growth may be supported by its foldables and GenAI (AI-powered) smartphones. Samsung's heavy presence in the mid-tier segment, especially in emerging markets, is likely to limit its ASP growth.

Other Android brands like Xiaomi, OPPO, and Vivo are also pursuing premiumisation, but their ASP growth remains modest, mainly due to weak demand in key markets like China and India.

In China, Huawei is seeing a strong ASP rebound. With improved supply chain conditions and growing interest in its Mate and P series foldables, the brand is regaining momentum. Its loyal HarmonyOS user base is also allowing Huawei to maintain premium pricing, although its international presence remains limited.

Role of technology in ASP growth

New technologies, especially AI and foldables, are pushing up production costs but are also increasing the value of smartphones. For example, GenAI smartphones have added roughly $40-60 to the bill of materials (BoM) per device. As AI technology matures, consumers are expected to willingly pay more for enhanced features and experiences.

Though foldable phones still make up less than 2% of global shipments, their high ASP is helping raise overall averages. Apple's anticipated foldable iPhone in 2026 could further boost global ASPs and set new benchmarks for the segment.

iPHONES DOMINATE INDIA'S REFURBISHED PHONE MARKET IN 2025

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THREE out of every five refurbished phone or second hand phone buyers in the first half of 2025 chose Apple iPhones, says Cashify's latest annual whitepaper. As per the report, the popular models such as the iPhone 14 Pro, iPhone 13 Pro Max, and iPhone 12 Pro have helped boost the ₹60,000+ refurbished phone category, which saw 33% year-on-year growth. Apple remains the undisputed leader in the resale market, accounting for 64.5% of all refurbished sales in 2024 and 62.9% in H1 2025, along with 33% of all trade-ins. Other brands like Xiaomi, OnePlus, and Samsung follow, while vivo showed notable growth from 2.1% to 3.2% in just six months.

While Delhi, Bengaluru, and Mumbai lead in trade-ins and purchases, tier-2 and tier-3 cities are quickly catching up, signalling a broader nationwide shift toward refurbished phones. Interestingly, the report highlights that 70% of Indians hoard 2-3 unused phones, creating what is being called the "Drawer Economy" — billions of rupees worth of idle devices sitting in homes. Consumer behavior is also changing: 33% now sell old phones to fund upgrades, while 40% are drawn by competitive buyback offers.

The Whitepaper 2025 reveals that while trade-in programs and resale offers have made old phones more valuable than ever, millions of devices still lie idle in drawers.

Mandeep Manocha, Co-Founder & CEO, Cashify.

Moreover, 63% of sellers trade in their devices within six months of upgrading. Despite this growth, 77% of resales still happen through informal grey channels, underlining the need for trusted and transparent resale platforms.

"India's $219 billion resale revolution isn't just a market opportunity; it's a chance to redefine how technology is consumed. The future of growth lies not in producing more, but in making every device last longer. The Whitepaper 2025 reveals that while trade-in programmes and resale offers have made old phones more valuable than ever, millions of devices still lie idle in drawers, depreciating in value, when they could be extending their life in someone else's hands," said Mandeep Manocha, co-founder & CEO, Cashify. Founded in 2013, Cashify is India's recommerce platform for buying, selling, and repairing used electronic gadgets, primarily smartphones.

Festive sales are on, but so are scams: How to protect yourself while shopping online

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

FESTIVE sales are live and all online shopping websites are full of big discounts, flash sales, and great offers. From Flipkart's Big Billion Days to Amazon's Great Indian Festival, it is the best time to buy the items you have been waiting for. However, while you are busy shopping, scammers are also active. They try to cheat people who are not careful. Here are some simple tips to help you stay safe.

OTP scams

SCAMS
Online Shopping
Online Shopping

Never share your OTPs, passwords, or PINs with anyone. Even if someone says they are from your bank or a shopping site, do not trust them. A common trick is the OTP scam. Scammers call and pretend to be delivery agents or customer support. They say there is a problem with your order or payment. Then they ask you to share an OTP. If you give the code, they can take control of your account and steal money or your saved card details.

Some scammers also make fake delivery calls. They say your order could not be delivered and ask for personal details or a small delivery fee. During sale time, many people place orders, so they easily believe these fake calls are real ones.

Shop only on trusted websites

Before entering your details, check the website address. Real sites start with "https://" and have the correct spelling of the brand name.

Phishing messages

Scammers send fake messages through SMS, WhatsApp, or email. These messages may show fake offers or order updates. They also have links that open fake websites that look like real shopping sites. If you enter your login or card details, scammers can steal them.

Fake social media ads

Scammers also post fake ads on Instagram, Facebook, and other social media sites. These ads offer big discounts on popular items like iPhones or smartwatches. If you pay, the seller disappears and deletes the page.
